THE SALUTE

Published by the class of June, 1932, to keep alive memories of its Alma Mater
Bloomfield High School, Bloomfield, N. J.

Dedication

The Class of June, 1932, gratefully dedicates this annual to

MISS MARION S. TERRY

its adviser who has been its guide through the many problems that have arisen, who has given unsparingly of her time, experience, and untiring efforts in the interest of the class, and who has brought the class through its four years of sojourn at Bloomfield High to a successful graduation.

1732-1932

The Class of June, 1932, is the Washington Bicentennial class of B. H. S. To commemorate America's great president, the Art department of THE SALUTE has endeavored to follow a suitable theme. In this way, the Class and the annual board hope THE SALUTE may, in one sense, be taken as a salute to George Washington.

THOMAS ADAMS

"FLASH"
"Oh, Yeah!"

Here is our future President of the United States. At least that is what "Flash" says. Maybe he will have his last year's football team as his cabinet, and govern them as well as he captained the team.

Football isn't "Flash's" only pastime. Baseball, Chemistry Club, and the Hi-Y take up some of his leisure. Tommie helped to add atmosphere to the Senior Play as a criminal, and the Student Council has been supplemented by his presence.

He is going to join the "Four Horsemen" and be a Notre Dame student for the next few years. We are sure they will have a good team when "Flash" gets there.

HENRY F. ALBINSON

"HENRY"

Henry is one of B. H. S.'s carefree boys. However, he is preparing himself for a college course.

Henry wants to be a doctor, and we certainly give praise and credit to anyone who would take up such a hard, expensive, but helpful profession.

He says he'll go to any college that he can get into, but we all know that at the critical moment Henry will decide on one of the superior colleges.

Henry is also a valuable member of that select group, the Chemistry Club.

HOWARD T. ALLEN

"ALLEN"

"You tell 'em, Mr. Mason."

"Look out for my trombone!" "Hey! Don't forget Band practice today!" Here we have Allen, the president of the B. H. S. Band. He is an active member of the school's Chemistry Club. He is also a member of B. H. S. Orchestra.

Because of his fine qualities we know he'll be a success when he goes to Wheaton College in Illinois to study science.

Allen's favorite pastimes are collecting mineral ores and playing his trombone.

MARIE D. ALLEN

"MARIE"

"So?"

"Gentlemen prefer blondes!" We don't know how much of a gentleman he is, but we do know that Marie is preferred.

Marie has been active in school activities and has belonged to the Latin and Chemistry Clubs, Girls' Senior Gym Team, Girl Reserves, and she is now treasurer of the French Club.

Her hobbies are swimming, drawing, dancing and sleeping (especially in P. D. Class). We wonder if she has pleasant dreams. Marie has used much of her originality on the Annual Board.

Next September Marie will enter New Jersey College for Women to take up Personnel Work.

RUTH AMIDON

"AMI"

"Oh, go paint a bubble!"

Pretty, petite, and sweet. Ruth is another lovely blonde and rather quiet, but perhaps not, if you're acquainted with her.

"Ami" is a member of the Girl Reserves, the English Club, and the Chemistry Club. She likes to skate, swim, and dance. We all agree that she has used good taste in choosing her interests.

Ruth is going to be a secretary some day. In the meanwhile she expects to study at the Seth Boyden School. Well, good luck!

GILRAY ANDERSON

"RAY"

"Wanna ride?"

Ray has a nicer smile than any other fellow in our class, according to the balloting results. When one looks at his picture, that's not hard to believe.

He is treasurer of the Hi-Y. He played Mr. Harvey, the poor butter-and-egg man who was murdered in the phone booth, in the senior play.

He spends his summers at the beach. His favorite activities there are swimming, motor-boating, aqua-planing, auto-riding, and Dor—! We mean he doesn't do those things by himself.

We don't know what he has chosen for a vocation, but maybe he'll be a plumber.

HELEN ARBUCKLE

"HELEN"

"That's great!"

Helen is one of those ambitious people who graduated in three and one-half years. Still, she has managed to keep in class affairs and is a member of the Math and Debating Clubs, the Girl Reserves, the Senior Gym Team, and she plays basketball.

Helen's chief interests are swimming, dancing, skating and canoeing (?). (Maybe she really likes canoeing, but we think there's more to it than just that).

She is planning to enter Montclair State Teachers' College next September. Helen has so much patience and is so obliging and persuasive that we know that all of her pupils will fall victims to her charms.

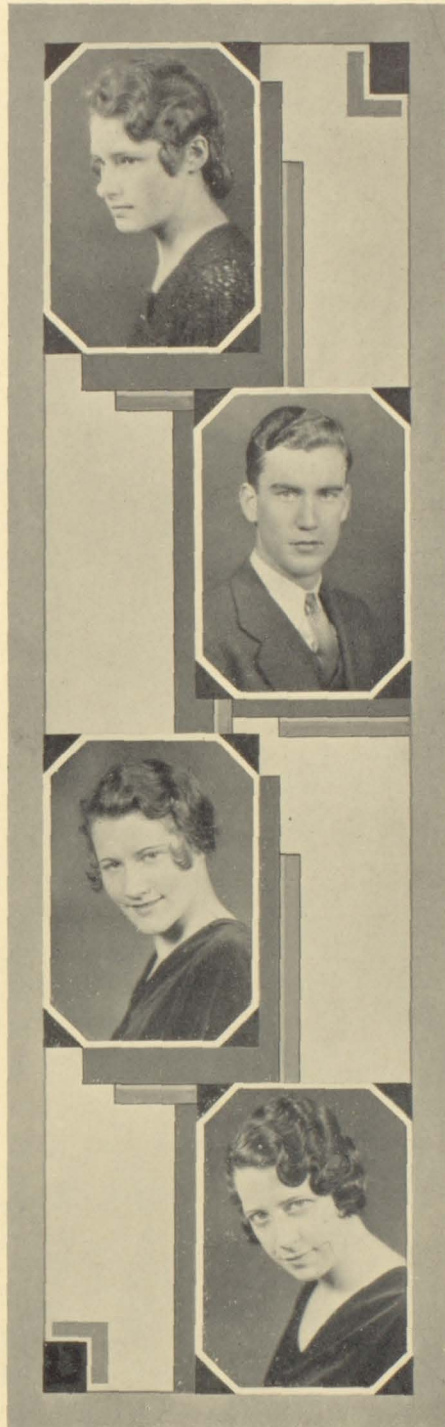

ALICE BAGLEY

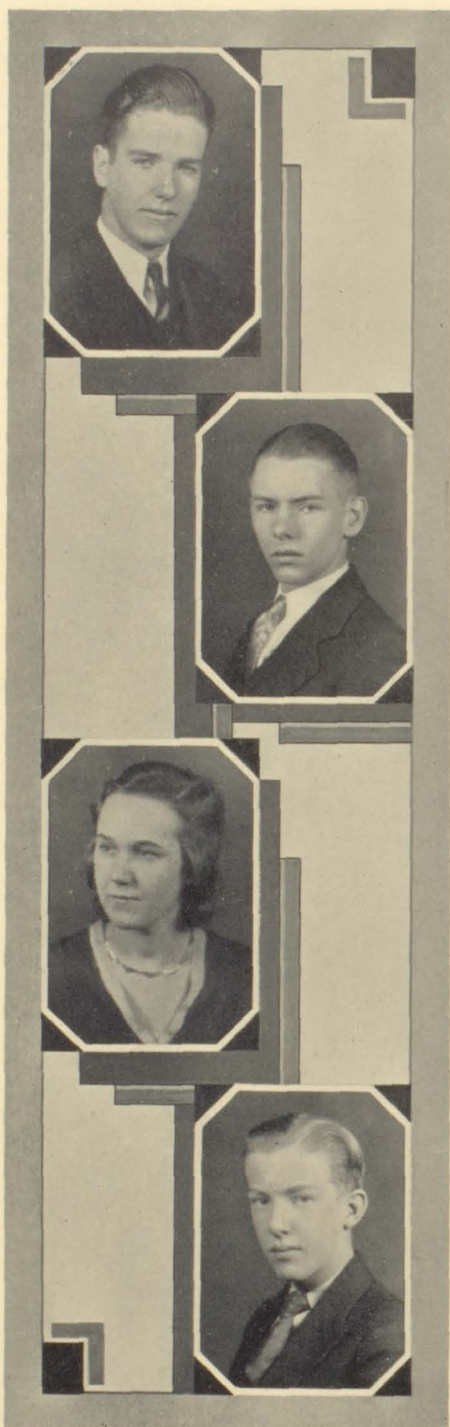

"ALICE"

Alice is one of the quietest girls of the class. Her crowning beauty is her hair, of which we are all envious. Few people really know Alice, but those who do, profit greatly by their acquaintance.

She loves to cook and to collect recipes. This statement is verified by the fact that she is president of the Home Economics Club. Among many other things Alice likes to swim. She is a member of the Dramatic Club, Girl Reserves, Chemistry Club, and the Glee Club.

Upon being graduated, Alice is going in training to be a nurse. We all envy the patients.

JOSEPH BAILEY

"JOE"

"Darn! I missed him!"

"Joe Bailey's Croonaders" has been the most popular orchestra in school for the last two years. "The Croonaders" have played for most of the class dances, for the Senior Play, for the Student Prints Revue, and for Free Wheeling.

Joe belongs to the school orchestra and the school band, to the Hi-Y and the Latin Club. He is also a football man.

His hobbies are music, mechanics, and salesmanship. He is one of Miss Hough's best ticket sellers.

After he finishes his course at Lehigh, Joe is going to be an engineer.

HUBERT BANKS

"BERT"

"Hey, Healy!"

Hubert has been one of the mainstays of the Glee Club and the Band. He is interested in music and plays with a jazz orchestra.

He is interested in Scouting and is an Eagle Scout with Silver Palms. He also belongs to the Indian tribe which entertained the school with an Indian dance program in Assembly last Thanksgiving. Bert is an accomplished actor, and masterfully impersonated Barnes in the Senior Play. Other interests are life saving and dramatics.

Bert is going to Kirksville College of Osteopathy.

KATHLEEN BANNISTER

"KITTY"

"You wouldn't kid me, would you?"

B. H. S. will certainly miss Kitty when she's gone. Her wonderful personality, her character, and especially her encouraging smile will be lacking from our school.

Kitty belongs to the Commercial Club and has belonged to many girls' gym organizations. Her hobbies are swimming, reading, and dancing.

For a future vocation she has decided on secretarial work.

GUSTAV A. BEEAFF, Jr.

"SWEDE"

"Take it easy!"

Gus is one of the neatest members of our class. His blond hair is always combed, even after cheering for his alma mater. Besides being a cheer leader, "Swede" is a member of the Spanish Club and vocalizes for the Glee Club.

Gus likes swimming, skating, and fishing. His hobbies are aviation and tinkering. He expects to interest himself in aviation as a future vocation. We hope he won't forget a parachute to make a happy landing when he's flying high.

RUTH E. BEECH

"RUFUS"

"Whosie"

Ruth is one of our quiet girls, and she isn't very big either. She is always pleasant and never seems to have anything wrong. That is quite unusual for most people.

"Rufus" belongs to the Girl Reserves and likes swimming and skating. She also likes to drive and read. Seth Boyden Secretarial School is her destination after leaving us here in Bloomfield. Ruth rather expects to be somebody's stenog'.

LILLIAN BEECHER

"SKIMP"

"My stars!"

Tiny, but, oh my! Lillian is a quiet maiden from Cedar Grove.

Lillian is fond of such sports as dancing, swimming, and sleeping. Her artistic ability is shown in her oil painting. She is a member of the Girl Reserves and of the Commercial Club. Lillian is an active member of the Senior Gym Team.

B. H. S. is going to be proud of Lillian in the future. She plans to be a commercial artist and will study at the Newark School of Art.

EDMUND BELDOWSKI

"BELL"

"Did you do your Trig?"

Ed is a quiet fellow who likes to study. He is interested in Chemistry and belongs to the Chemistry Club. "Bell" is versatile, for he also belongs to the orchestra, and was assistant advertising manager in the Senior Play, "First Night." He filled the position completely, and showed his ability in the business line.

Although we do not know what Ed is going to take up after leaving these halls of learning, we feel sure that he cannot help but succeed because of his ability.

WALTER BINOWEC

"WHITIE"

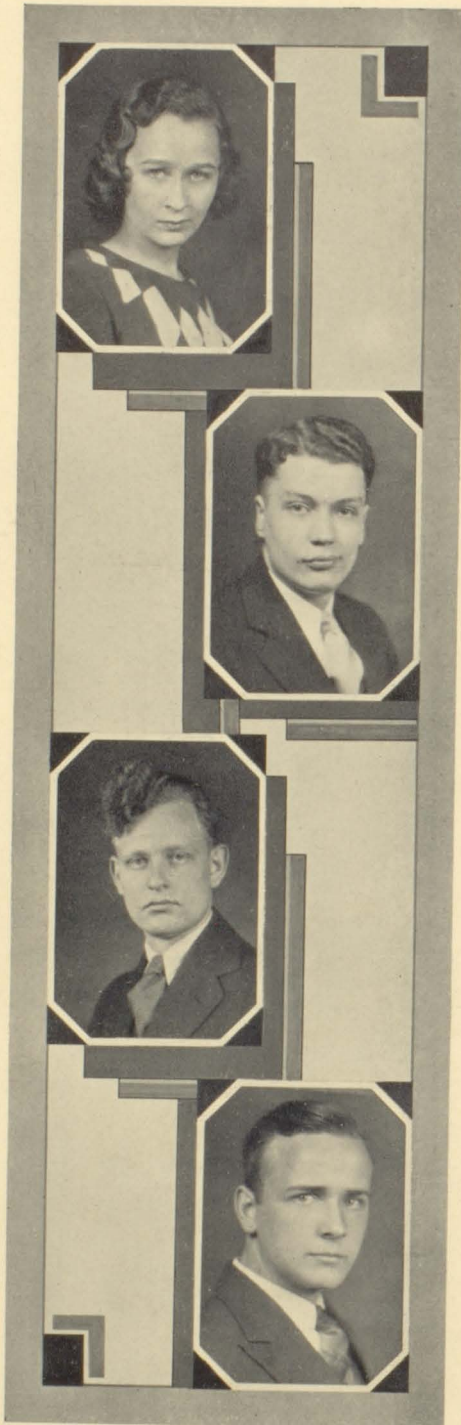

"Whaddaya say, Mac?"

Walt is a business man, a strong silent one. Everybody knows he has good stuff because he never tells anyone about it. He is a member of the German and Commercial Clubs. He is interested in baseball, basketball, bridge, and business administration.

His favorite piece of music is the "Prisoner's Song."

He is going to study at Pace Institute and some day will be known as "Mr. Walter Binowec, Certified Public Accountant."

MARION BLACK

"BLACKIE"

"Am I good?"

Why of course she's good! She has to be good! She was an extra in the Senior Play! But even that is not her only right to fame. She belongs to the French, Chemistry, Sphinx, and Glee Clubs, and she is a member of the Junior Gym Team. Her hobbies are tennis, reading, and music, but we, who have seen her in unguarded moments, suspect that she has others.

Marion is undecided as to her vocation, but she may attend Montclair Teachers' College.

KENNETH E. BLAUVELT

"KEN"

"Hey, juice!"

Ken is one of the mainstays of the Band and Orchestra. He has what is known as a "saxophone personality," and has also been faithful in attendance. Ken is a member of the Hi-Y, Chemistry and Glee Clubs. He croons a mean bass in the Glee Club, and was picked for the quartet.

His favorite hobby is driving the family car (Ford), and is a past master of the art. Ken always has his weather eye out for the "babes."

Next fall he is going to the University of Wisconsin, where he will study advertising.

SOLOMON BLOCK

"CURLY"

"Life is just a bowl of cherries."

Sol is the chairman of Room 107, and he delights in leading the morning exercises. His friends call him the "Ping-Pong Paragon," but he can play lawn tennis and soccer as well as a mean game of table tennis. He likes fishing and he uses the fish which he catches for Biology study. Chemistry is another of his favorite studies, and he is a member of the Chemistry Club.

Sol, along with Stan Kohler, was instrumental in obtaining for the students of B. H. S. the privilege of going out-doors again during lunch period. This was brought about by a petition presented to the Board of Education.

Sol has chosen chiropody as his profession.

CHARLES BLUNT

"CHARLIE"

Part of the success of "First Night" can be attributed to Charles, who was a very capable advertising manager.

Charlie is a member of the Boys' Glee Club and Chemistry Club.

His favorite pastime is driving a car. There should be a decided emphasis on driving, because he really is very adept.

Charles plans to enter Rutgers next fall, where he will take a course in Scientific Farming. He doesn't seem to be the type for a farmer, but you never can tell.

RUTH BOGART

"RUTHIE"

"Oke—ok"

Ruth has seen quite a bit of the U. S. A. She has studied in Scranton, Pa., Cleveland Heights, Ohio, and Kingston, Pa., before gracing these halls. Dark and petite, but oh my! If you don't believe me, ask Bert. She likes ice skating, dancing and tennis. She is going to be a secretary and with her cheerful smile and sunny disposition should go far.

FRANK BOROWY

"BRO"

"How goes it?"

Although Frank is one of the quietest fellows in our class, his silence is no sign that he has nothing to make noise about. He is big and tall and he plays football, baseball, and basketball, both in and out of school.

Out of school he plays with the Bloomfield Bears, a team whose roster includes a number of those who have distinguished themselves with school teams.

Frank has chosen office work as his vocation. We're sure that he'll never betray his employer's secrets.

CHARLOTTE BROWN

"CHARLOTTE"

"Oh me!"

The future English teacher! Yes, Charlotte is going to Wheaton to major in English. We have no idea why she chose Wheaton as her college, but we're sure she won't be lonesome there.

Charlotte is one of the few girls in the Band and she has gained prominence in it. She is Secretary of it. She is President of the Orchestra and a member of the Glee Club. We all agree that Charlotte is musically inclined. She is also active in the Chemistry and Latin Clubs.

We all know that Charlotte's chief weakness is dark men.

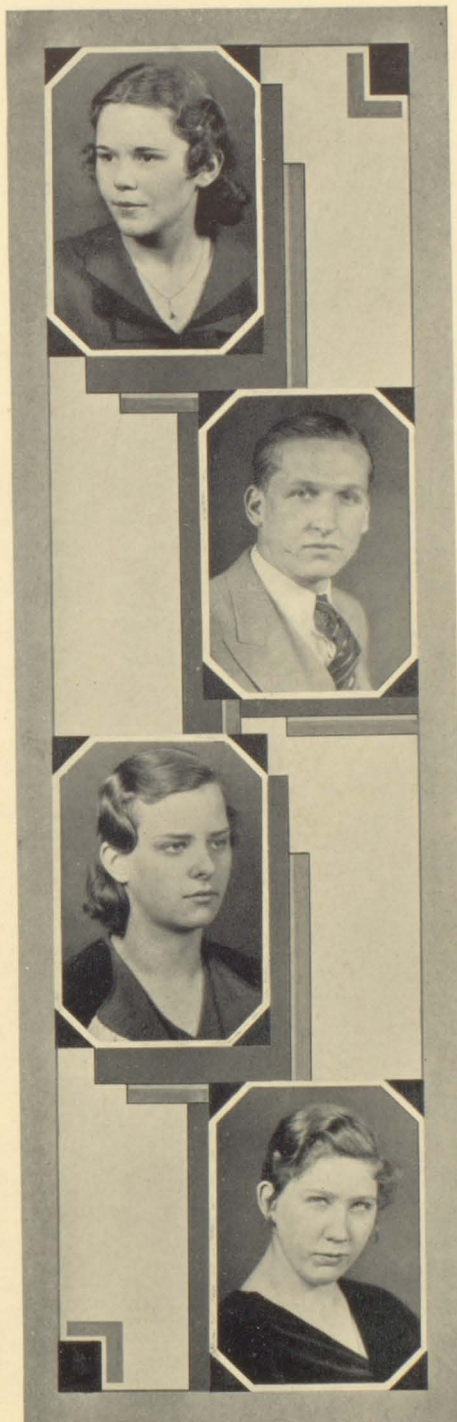

JEAN CAMERON

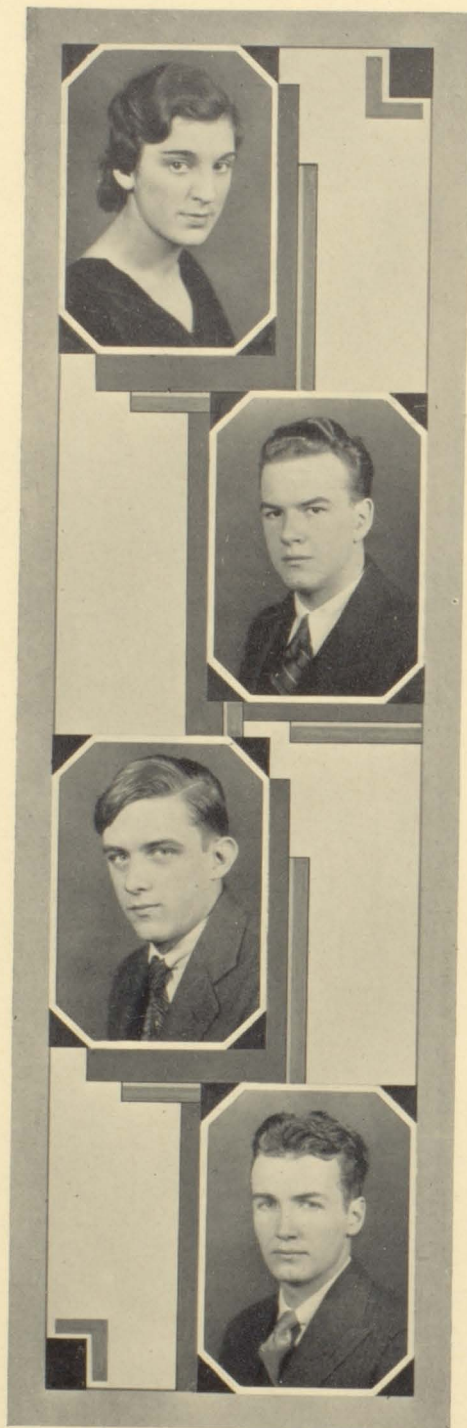

"JERRY"

"Cuss it!"

Regard the countenance of the most skillful mixer of mange medicine in B. H. S. Jerry puzzled all the chemistry concocters with her formula for mange cure. She is a dog lover and is rightfully proud of it. After graduation she intends to spend some time at a dog farm in Blirstown.

"Jerry" is a member of the Girl Reserves and the Chemistry Club. She played basketball, and was a member of the Senior Gym Team for two years. Swimming is another of her accomplishments.

LILLIAN CAPRIO

"LIL"

"Gosh! Gee!"

Lil hails from Central High, and she surely must have been one popular girl there because of her ability in high jumping and running.

Now that Lil has become one of us she has made herself more popular not only because she's on the Girls' Gym Team, but also because she possesses such a friendly nature.

She also is one of those boyish girls craving horseback riding, swimming, rough games, and reading.

Lillian craves to be a private secretary, so she's going to Katherine Gibbs School in New York.

JOSEPH P. CARSON, Jr.

"DUKE"

"Holy Jumping Jupiter!"

Joe Carson has been class president since the second half of the sophomore year. He is president of the Sphinx Club and holds membership in the French, Latin, Math, Dramatic, and Chemistry Clubs. He was the English villain in "First Night." Even as a crook he was a gentleman. Joe has been a member of the Student Council and has served as a reporter on the staff of the "Student Prints." He is an accomplished performer on the tennis and basketball courts, and also on the football field and in the swimming pool.

Joe is going to Dartmouth, where he intends to take a pre-medical course.

BURTON CASH

"BURT"

We sometimes know when Burt's around but not always. (Sometimes he fools us.) He's quiet in school but we can't account for his outside activities. (He may fool us again.)

If you ever want to find Burt, just look in 106 during lunch period and there he is, bent over his books, doing his homework with the soft accompaniment of the radio. This makes us wonder again about Burt and how he spends his evenings—not doing homework, anyhow. But still Burt is managing to graduate in three and a half years.

Burt will be a future chemical or electrical engineer—which will mean more fame added to our class.

JOHN CLEARY

"JACK"

"Got a little business?"

Jack is the students' choice as the best looking fellow in the class. The majority is always right!

His fine work as "Inspector Owens" was a large factor in the success of "First Night," but the senior play was not his only theatrical endeavor. He has been an able assistant to Johnnie Liess in every performance in which Johnnie has acted as "Master of Ceremonies."

Jack's athletic achievements are the winning of letters for the football and track teams. The Hi-Y and the Chemistry Club form a part of his social life.

ESTELLE COHEN

"STELL"

"You would!"

Stell came from Lyndhurst High School and we certainly have profited by her presence here.

At Lyndhurst she was a representative of the Student Council, a position that required real mental talent.

Stell loves to swim, dance, skate, and play tennis. She belongs to the Commercial Club and to the Home Economics Club.

Some lucky fellow is some day going to have this girl as a private secretary, and when he does, we are sure he will be proud of her.

EDITH CONKLIN

"ED"

"All right! Be snooty."

Edith is a winsome three and a half year student, whom we are proud to have in the class.

She is a member of the Spanish and Commercial Clubs. Edith was quite active in sports, playing baseball and basketball. Typing for the "Student Prints" and working in the B. H. S. Bank are two thankless tasks which she has filled well.

Edith says that she may either be "Somebody's Stenog" or go to school. Her mind is not completely made up as yet.

DONALD CROUGHAN

"FAGAN"

"It's a great day."

Some say he's quiet, some say he's not. Some think he's a woman-hater, while some know differently; but everyone votes unanimously that Fag is a nice fellow and well-liked by all who know him. He has a versatile nature along with a bright smile, but still we're sure he's holding from us some secrets about himself.

He is an active member of the Chemistry Club and sprints around on the track team, too. As for his other outside activities, maybe Dannie can account for them, because he is one of Fag's best friends.

Fag will be one of our future big business men, with his own private office, a big desk, easy chair, and everything. Maybe he'll even have a pretty private secretary too!

JOSEPH CWIRKO

"JOE"

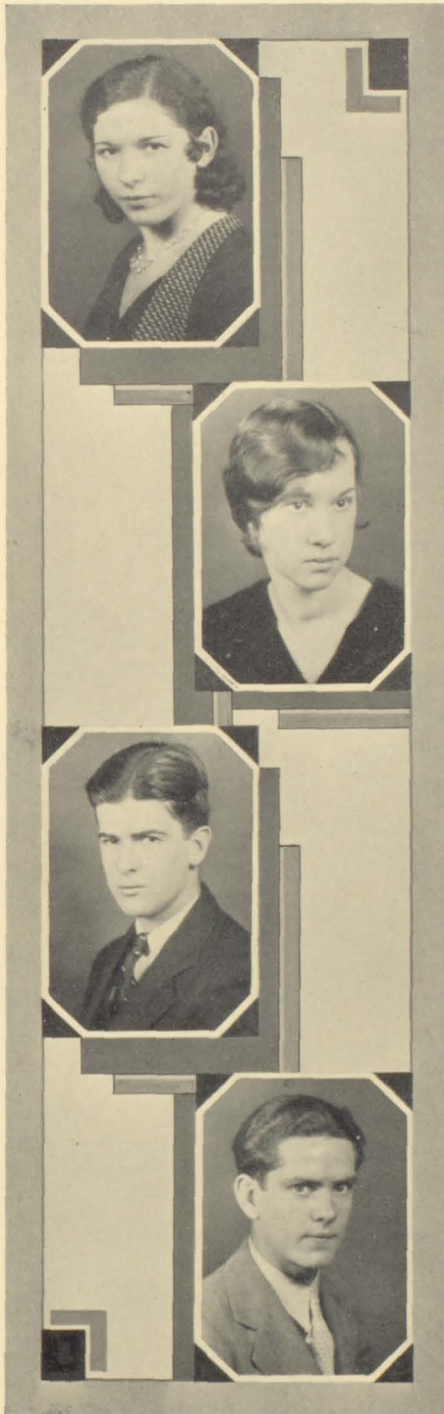

"My name is Cwirko, pronounced Swirko, if you please."

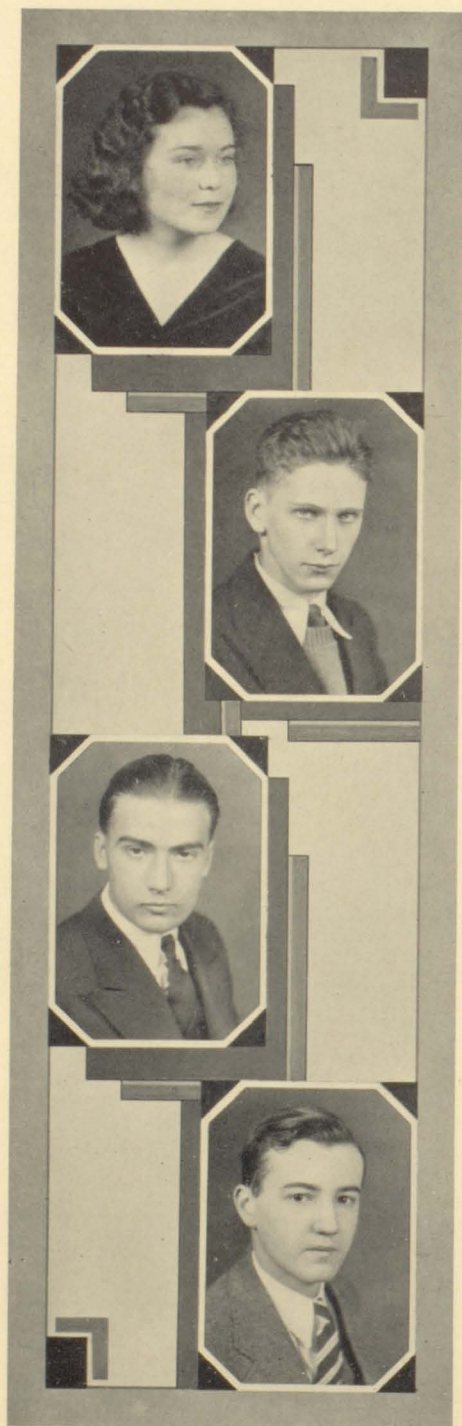

The man of mystery! Who knows the affairs of this fellow? Few about school, we find.

However, we do know that Joe is a very obliging body, always ready to help anyone. He might be known as Miss Smith's right-hand man, since he is constantly assisting her in her monotonous duties.

Experimenting in the Chem laboratory is one of Cwirko's chief hobbies. No one can excel him in manipulating apparatus or concocting new mixtures.

Joe is also a great radio enthusiast and spends a great deal of time at this hobby.

NAOMA DALZELL

"NED"
"Okie Doke!"

Ned's charming personality and friendly manner have made her one of the most popular girls in our class. She showed exceptional talent as the leading lady in "First Night," our Senior Play.

Her hobbies are dancing, tennis, riding in, and driving a car. Naoma is a member of the Dramatic Club.

Naoma's future vocation is still undecided. She may attend Scudder School in New York and enter into the secretarial field or study at the William Faversham School of Dramatic Art in Montclair. In whatever field she enters, she will undoubtedly be a success.

FREDERICK HENRY DAVIS, Jr.

"FRED"
"Goin' to the 'Y,' Carl?"

Fred Davis is the fellow who makes all the noise with the bass drum in the band. He used to play the cymbals, but he's been promoted. His other school activities are the Math, Chemistry and Sphinx Clubs. He was treasurer of the Student Council for a year and a half.

Fred swims backstroke on the Student Swimming Team in the Montclair Y. M. C. A. He developed his aquatic ability in a summer camp where he works as bugler.

He will probably prepare for engineering at Lehigh University.

VITO DE MAI

"VITO"
"Aw nertz!"

Vito is one of the scientific boys of B. H. S., radio being his favorite hobby. He often keeps the midnight oil burning, but not for homework. D-Xing is better after midnight, you know!

Vito keeps in fine trim by exercising many pencils in the manly art of solving crossword puzzles, which he secures from magazines, newspapers and every other possible source.

This scientifically inclined graduate is bound for the Newark Institute of Technology.

ARMAND JOHN DE ROSSET

"ARCHIMEDES"
"Ts a fact, Miss Smith!"

Armand seems to have an unlimited capacity for absorbing knowledge. He has been with us since his junior year, but it took him only a few weeks to establish himself by his high scholastic ability and his confident ambition.

He has been reporter, make-up editor, and editor-in-chief on the "Student Prints" staff, and assistant editor of "The Salute." The Senior Play received its publicity through his efforts as publicity manager.

Armand holds the distinction of having studied "au lycee" at Montpellier, France, in 1929 and 1930, and of having travelled in Spain as well as in France. He intends to study at West Point.

JOHN DOWNEY

"SKIZZLE"

"I'll be seein' ya!"

Although John entered B. H. S. last September from Immaculate Conception High, it hasn't taken him long to get acquainted.

He says that his hobbies are boxing (does he look like a pugilist?) and swimming, but we think that he likes to drive around in his red "Essex" roadster.

"Skizzle," as he is commonly called, is very obliging and good natured. Immaculate Conception lost a good looking basketball manager when John came to Bloomfield.

Johnny is undecided about what he will do in the future, but we know he will succeed because of his genial personality.

PHILIP C. DRAPER

"PHIL"

Phil came to B. H. S. in 1931 from Orange High School, and in a year's time has made himself known and well liked by his classmates.

Phil is very much interested in travel and intends to take many trips in the future.

He is entered at the Newark College of Engineering, where he is going to study Civil Engineering.

MICHAEL S. DRUDY

"RED"

Michael has red hair, too. We like it because it's so curly. It really isn't fair that a boy should have such nice hair.

"Red" has numerous interests. He likes fishing, swimming, and other outdoor sports. Basketball and dancing are also favored by him. He is a member of the Chemistry Club. Michael is especially attracted to Glen Ridge. We don't know exactly why.

He is undecided as to where he will go after graduation, but at any rate he will some day be a "big business man."

WILLIAM DUSCHE

"DUKE"

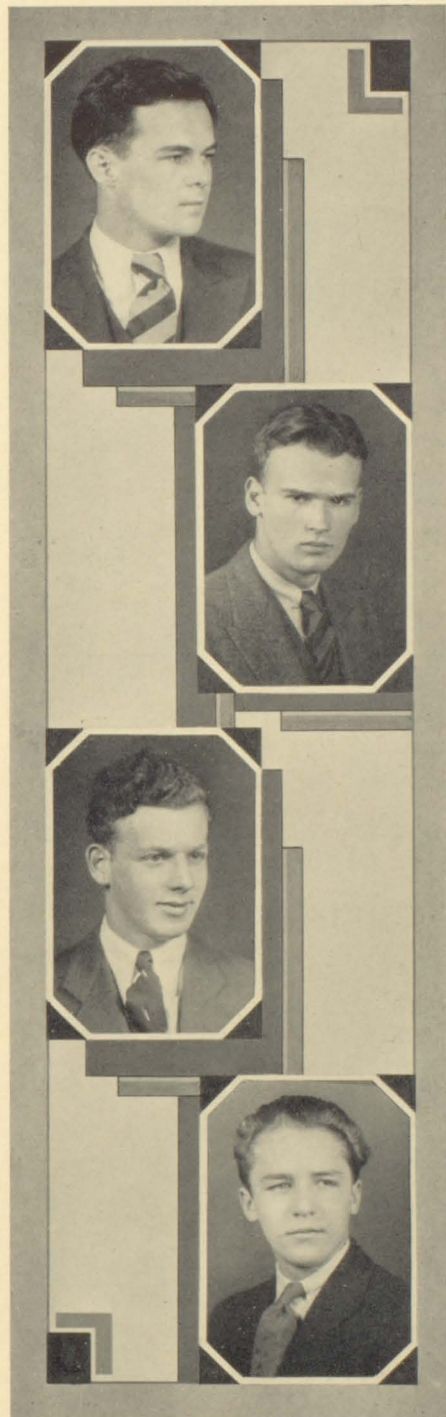

"The Old Microbe."

Believe it or not, Duke Dusche, the old microbe, is the only Duke we have in high school. We often wonder where his monocle and cane are, but then Duke Dusche is a modest Duke.

William has completed his high school course in fine shape, and has certainly been well liked by his classmates.

He has ability in sports and gym work and has participated in many sport events.

Besides sports, the Duke is very much interested in music—both jazz and classical.

HELEN JEAN DWYER

"BUDDY"

"When do we eat?"

If you want Buddy, look for Dot Livingston, for you'll always find them together.

Buddy has a special yearning for boys with curly blond hair, and of course, they must be six feet two inches tall. We wonder why.

Buddy, one of the cutest girls in the class, was a former member of the Senior Gym Team. Her favorite pastime is eating. Why, every time you look at her, she says she's hungry. Some of her hobbies are swimming, reading, and dancing. And can she dance! Just ask any one.

Buddy's main ambition after graduation is to be a Beauty Culturist.

LE ROY DYAL

"LEE"

"What's it to you?"

Lee is one of the "most handsomest" fellows in our class. But, we're sorry to say it, girls, he's a man's man. Those who played against him on the football field will vouch for that. Lee was center on last year's varsity team.

He has not been idle off the field of honor. He was vice-president of the February '33 class, a member of the Hi-Y, and he played the part of Mr. Harvey, the old roue who died on the stairs so spectacularly, in "First Night."

His prospective business is exporting, for which he will prepare at Harvard.

GEORGE EARLE

"GAWGE"

"All good men are dying out.

Gee, I feel sick."

Gawge is one of our travelling men (no, not a salesman). He first attended St. Francis Prep in Brooklyn and then lived in Oceanside, Long Island, before coming to Bloomfield two years ago and giving our class a "break."

Gawge is a snappy dancer, one of the best in the class. He has a way with the opposite sex, but then, he's popular among the males, too, and all will admit that Gawge is one good sport.

AMELIA EASTES

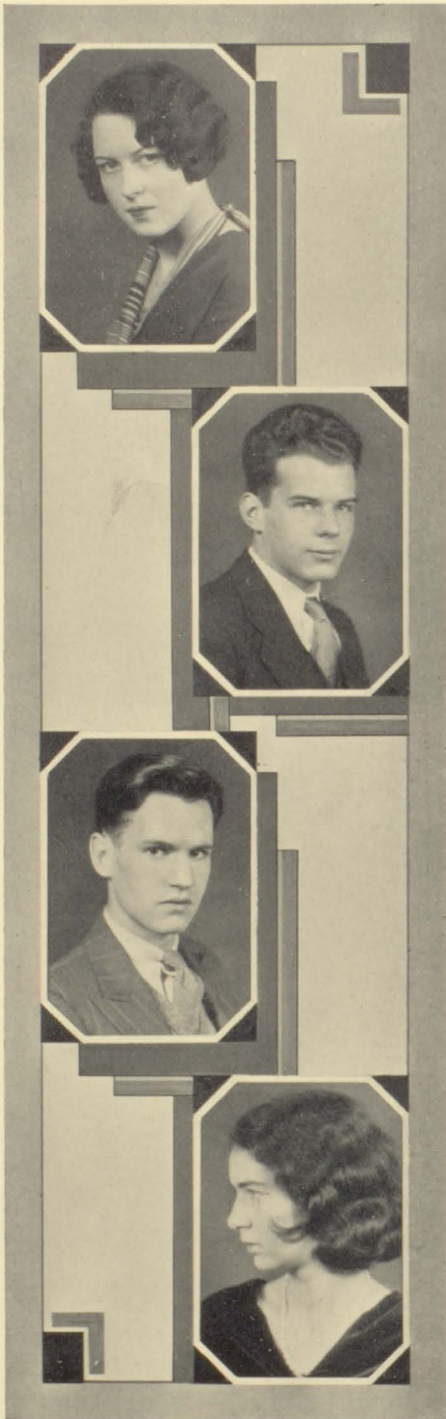

"MAY"

"What! No French today!"

May is a petite young miss with wavy brown hair. Wouldn't that describe a little French girl to perfection? Perhaps it's the reason why she is so very fond of her French course.

One of Amelia's favorite hobbies is dancing. In sports she favors tennis. She is a member of the French Club and she represents Room 107 in the Student Council.

May is quiet and reserved and she hasn't told us what she has chosen for a vocation. She probably wants to keep it a secret until she reaches success, and then we'll be able to see for ourselves.

RUTH L. EICHORN

"RUTH"

"Call me Iggy."

Another blonde. Ruth is a rather reserved person. It has always seemed to us that she was preoccupied. Are we right, Ruth?

Ruth doesn't look very athletic, but she likes tennis, swimming, hiking, dancing, and eating. Perhaps she acquired a taste for food from the Home Economics Club.

She also is a member of the Girl Reserves, Chemistry Club, and Student Council.

Ruth plans to go to normal school to prepare to be a kindergarten teacher. Can't you imagine her about six years from now, playing the piano while little children sing "Good morning, dear teacher"?

JACK ELLIS

Allow me to introduce no other than Mr. Jack Ellis, interlocutor par excellence. Countless times he has kept our assemblies agog with amazement at his astounding knowledge of the English language.

President of the Debating Club is Jack. Here he has many chances to aerate his sparkling vocabulary. P. D. class also forms an excellent setting for exercising his tonsils. He is the honorable president of the Hi-Y, and he did much to add to the success of the last Hi-Y benefit show.

Jack is going to follow in his father's footsteps and take up printing and advertising. If times are slow Jack can always resort to a soap box.

MILDRED ELLOR

"MILLIE"

"O Sole Mio"

Mildred is an athlete, a musician, an artist, a good student, and a good school citizen. She is a member of the Senior Gym Team, and she has played on the class basketball and baseball teams. She plays the piano and sings in the Glee Club. She draws portraits of children, and her name is always on the honor roll. Her claim to the title of "good school citizen" lies in the fact that she has been school reporter to the Independent Press and that she has been an active member of the Chemistry, Latin, French, and Sphinx Clubs.

She intends to go to Syracuse University and learn enough there to become a supervisor of music.

THOMAS ENGLISH

"TOM"

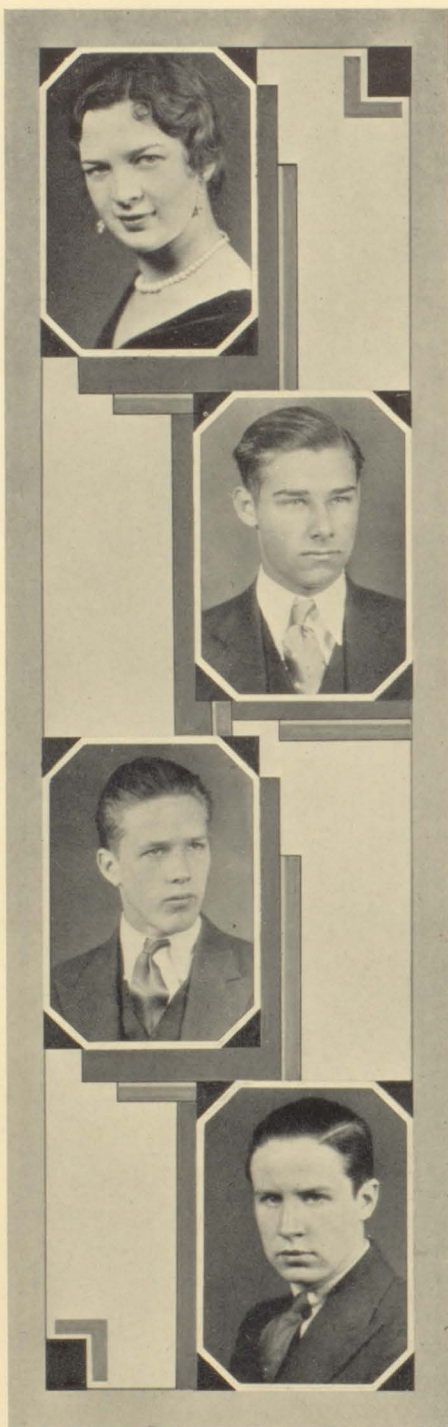

Introducing one of the best known boys in B. H. S. Tommy is the Treasurer of the class, President of the Student Council, President of the Dramatic Club, and a member of the Glee Club.

Tom helped make "First Night" a success by very capably taking one of the leading parts. Incidentally, Tom made several of the hearts of the feminine cast beat a little bit faster.

And yet he hasn't confined all of his interest within the school. His hobbies include swimming, and life saving, scouting, dramatics, Indian lore, and dancing.

Tom plans to finish his education at Dartmouth.

EDNA ANNE ERNST

"Ed"

"Or sumpin', or sumpin'!"

This is the only advertisement which is published in this book. All ye fair and would-be-fair class members know that Edna Ernst is going to be a beauty expert. Remember the old slogan, and "patronize your classmate" when your hair begins to silver and you lose your schoolgirl complexion.

Edna is a member of the Commercial Club. She prefers swimming and skating to other sports. Her favorite extra-curricular activity is riding in a green Chevrolet.

She intends to enter a school of Beauty Culture to prepare for her vocation.

GERARD EVERALL

"SPLASH"

"Nertz"

Gerard is one of the several Bloomfield boys on the Montclair Y. M. C. A. Swimming Team. He is an exceptionally good swimmer and has won many points in meets. As you would expect, he also likes to sail a boat. As a side line he plays tennis and sports in season. He played halfback on the Rangers, and was an outstanding punter and ball carrier. He also went out for track, and was on the squad several seasons.

His clubs are Hi-Y, Latin, Chemistry. He had a part in the senior play and as a detective led culprits in and out and masterfully closed and opened doors.

Gerard is going to Brown to further his education.

ARTHUR EVERSWICK

"ART"

Art is another of those good-looking fellows who spend their spare time with the activities of the National Guard.

Art's hobbies are horseback riding, swimming, and skating. He also enjoys kidding Trimmer along (just between two buddies). One of his favorite pastimes is eating; especially pie.

Last year Art made a name for himself by playing guard on the football team.

The first impression we had of Art was that he was rather bashful when any of the feminine sex were around. However, we know now that we were wrong, but no names will be mentioned.

WILLIAM FAIRWEATHER, Jr.

"BILL"

"Let's eat!"

Whenever we see Bill he's busy drawing a clever cartoon on the back of somebody's pad. Perhaps he is just keeping in practice because he plans to take up cartooning as a vocation. Bill generally see the bright side of things, so we know he will make good.

Bill is a member of the Hi-Y, Chemistry, and Math Clubs. Besides drawing, Bill has an interest in automobiles.

Maybe some day you will wish you had the autograph of the famous cartoonist, Mr. Fairweather.

DORIS E. FIELDING

"DORIE"

"For cryin' out loud."

Meet one of our most popular young ladies! No one needs to ask why, once they know Doris. You can always be sure of a nice smile and a friendly greeting when you meet "Dorie." No one is slighted as long as she has anything to say about it.

One reason why our Senior Play was such a success was because of "Dorie's" interest on the Play Committee and her fine acting in the play itself.

"Dorie's" hobbies are swimming, boating, dancing, and drawing. In fact, she expects to earn her livelihood by means of the latter, for she is going to an art school to study Dress Designing.

RUSSELL FISCHER

"22"

"It's a honey."

If you want to find Russ just look for Jimmy and vice versa. They are always together like Mike and Ike.

"22" is one of our athletes, and maybe he isn't good! Football, basketball, and track are his sports. In every one he is one of the best players.

The Hi-Y and Chemistry Club are his extra-curricular activities, and outside of school, aviation and books claim his interest. Both of these seem very worth while, and may prove to be more than mere hobbies.

Russ expects to go to college, but he hasn't decided yet what one he will attend. Wherever you go, Russ, and whatever you do, we wish you the best of luck.

WILLIAM F. FRICK, Jr.

"BEEF"

"What am I supposed to do?"

Bill is an outstanding figure in the school. He has countless friends and is a leader in all he undertakes. He has one of the highest averages in the class in studies. The success of the B. H. S. Handbook shows what a fine job Bill did as editor.

He has been Secretary and Vice-President of the Latin Club, Secretary of the Hi-Y, Secretary of the French Club, and a member of the Math Club, the Glee Club, and the Chemistry Club. Bill is Vice-President of the Student Council and has presided at many assemblies.

Bill is headed for Dartmouth, where he will take a course in Business Administration.

MILDRED FUESS

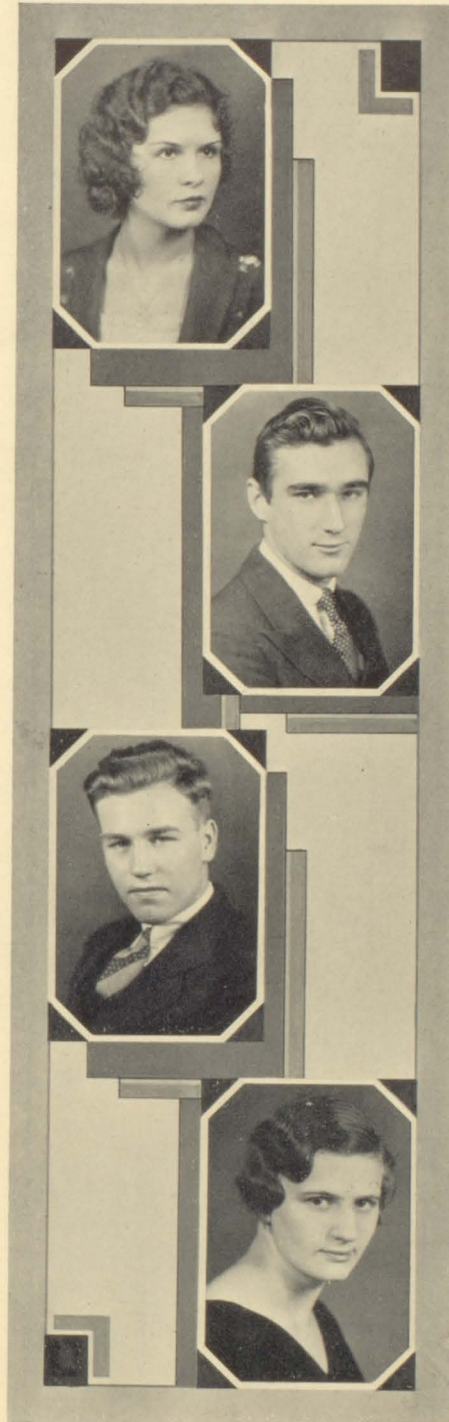

"MILLIE"

"No kidding."

B. H. S. will be minus one girl who has always been admired for true ability and character. She will be remembered in the hearts of her classmates as a girl whom one could trust, admire, and set up as an example of high school success.

She is a member of the Commercial Club and the German Club.

Mildred intends to be a secretary, and we wish her the best of success.

JULIUS GARRIGA

"JULIE"
"Aw nertz"

Managing a football team is no easy job, but "Julie" did it well for two years. He does more than manage the track team, however, for he is the star miler of that organization.

Julie is one of those Hi-Y boys, and the Chemistry Club is also on his program of activities.

Outside of school the very interesting and popular hobby of collecting stamps holds "Julie's" interest, and reading comes in for its share of attention.

We all think Julie is very brave because he is going to follow in Mr. Walrath's footsteps and become an excellent chemist. Cooper Union is his choice of college. Here's wishing you luck, Julie!

WALTER GARRISON

"GARRY"

Behold a wanderer from Cedar Grove! Walter has travelled to Bloomfield High School for four years and liked it. He is an ardent German student, and participates in the activities of the German Club.

Walter includes sports among his diversions, and we know how well he enjoys basketball and tennis. He spends even more time on his hobby of Natural History, collecting snakes and insects. He also likes to travel, having recently made a trip to Florida.

Garrison is rather serious, and seems always to be pondering over some project. Perhaps in the future we shall see his success in the career which he has chosen, which happens to be the art of husbandry.

JAMES GLEASON

"JIMMIE"

Jimmie like to put on that impassible aspect of quietness, reserve, good behavior, and deep thought, but he can't fool us! We know better. Another thing, he likes to pass as a woman-hater, but with those good looks, it seems impossible.

In the Senior Play he was the efficient finger-print expert. He is a member of the Chemistry Club.

Jimmie is going to become an Electrical Engineer. As for the deep thought aforementioned, maybe Jimmie has an idea on some future invention and he is making close silent observations, piling up his material, and some day in the near future he'll show the world.

ALBERT GORSLINE

"AL"

"Blow me down."

Al hasn't been in our class very long, but he has been with us long enough to get into a number of the worth-while things. He has been vice-president and treasurer of the Math Club, belongs to the Sphinx Club, and he has been out for track and played inter-class baseball.

Swimming and tennis are his hobbies, and he has done considerable traveling.

As to his vocation, Al is uncertain, but he thinks that he will be an author or an engineer. He will get his training at either Stevens or California Tech.

HELEN GREENWOOD

"HELEN"
"Is he tall?"

Helen is one of the most active members of the class. She is tall with blonde curly hair; surely you know her.

She has been very active in the various clubs of the school. She is secretary of the Math Club and a member of the Chemistry Club and the Girl Reserves. Last year she was secretary of the French Club and treasurer of the Latin Club. At the same time Helen had time enough to work on the "Student Prints." She played center on the Girls' Champion Basketball Team and is a member of the Senior Gym Team.

Helen may some day be a librarian. In the meanwhile she will attend the New Jersey College for Women.

HAROLD GRISSING

"HORSES"
"You're a honey"

Harold is one of those fellows who come to B. H. S. from Cedar Grove. He seems rather quiet, but his smile is so engaging that it has probably made him many friends.

"Horses" (ask him to explain the nick-name, because we're still in the dark) likes gardening, walking, and the cultivation of flowers.

Harold is a member of the German and Chemistry Clubs. He likes to play basketball and ping pong.

He plans to engage in Agriculture as a profession. We have always associated Harold with the outdoors, and we're not disappointed at all to learn he's going to be a farmer.

JOSEPH HAHN

"JOE"
"Jiminy Crickets!"

"Gentlemen prefer blondes." So do the ladies, at least in this case. Joseph hails from Cedar Grove. We are curious to know what goes on up there. There must be something, 'cause "Joe" falls asleep in all his study periods. Let us in on the secret, won't you?

Joseph is an ambitious lad. His motto seems to be "Business comes before pleasure," since he has worked after school for four years. He likes to dance and to do homework. Can you imagine that, anyone liking to do homework? It seems incredible, but it's true.

JOHN HARRISON

"JOHN"
"Nertz"

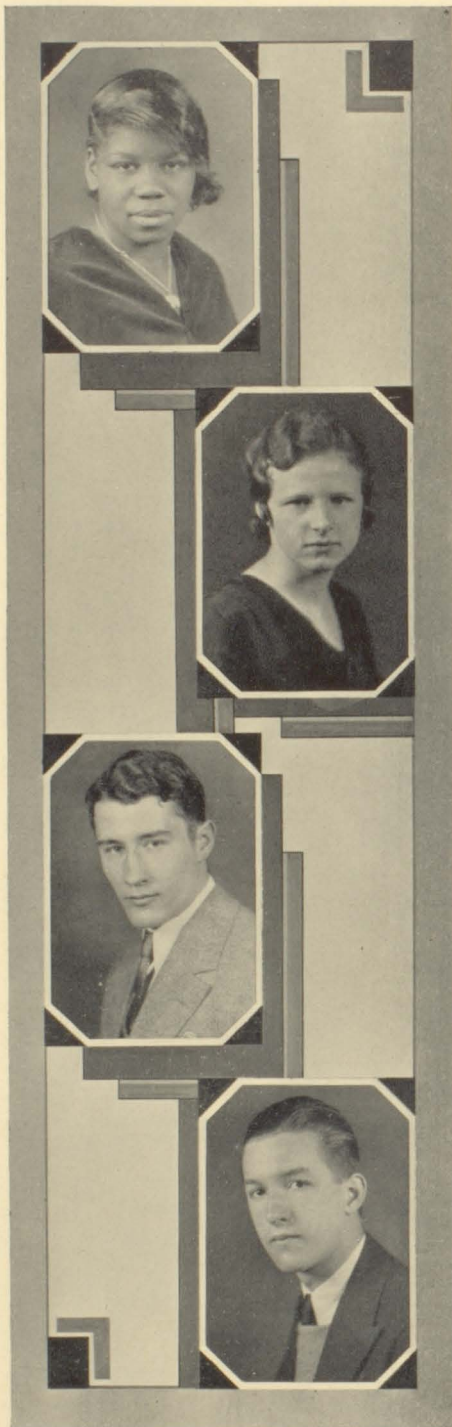

John is another ping-pong fan. His ambition is to beat Bill ("Duke") Dusche, some day.

Although he likes table tennis, John can also take part in more active sports. He played inter-class basketball, and his hobbies are tennis and golf.

He is a commercial student and he belongs to the German, Chemistry, and Commercial Clubs.

Next to ping-pong, his favorite indoor sport is listening to Walter Winchell and Ben Bernie tell stories about each other on the radio.

MARGARET L. HAYES

"MARGE"

"Gee, your mother must shine you with brillo"

Marge is one of the people who have an infectious laugh. She seems to enjoy herself so thoroughly that it spreads to anyone who happens to be around. We never saw any one person get such kicks out of things as she does. More power to you, "Marge."

Roller skating is one of her hobbies and baseball is another. We think laughing at people is another thing that Marge seems to enjoy very much. You have to be careful what you do when she is around, or else you are likely to be the source of a joke.

Marge is headed straight for a stenographer's desk with her name on a plate n'everythin'!

RUTH HENDEY

"RUTHIE"

"How should I know?"

A quiet girl, but perhaps the old saying holds true, "Still water runs deep." Ruthie likes to sew and to read. She is interested in sports such as swimming and ice-skating. This is proved by the fact that she is on the Junior Gym Team.

She is a member of the Spanish Club. Her great ambition is to become a secretary, but she will be content to be a stenographer for a time. Well, good luck to you, Ruthie.

NORMAN A. HILL

"NORM"

"How's your Uncle?"

This is President Hill of the German Club. Besides guiding the destinies of "Der Deutsche Kreis," he is on the rolls of the Chemistry and Math Clubs, and he spends his Thursday evenings at Hi-Y meetings. Norm played tackle on the football squad and was star tackle for the Rangers, last year. He also does the half mile on the track team. Radio is his hobby.

Someone has said that, though Norm is a big enough fellow, he has a weakness for little girls.

He is going to Lafayette, but has not yet decided what he is going to be.

RAYMOND HOFFMAN

"RAY"

"Who, me?"

"Lady, please don't rush me! What was that—a pound of butter, a can of tomatoes—oh, oh, not so fast!" Poor Ray, no wonder he looks so worn out when Monday rolls around because he labors desperately every Saturday in the A. & P. That's why he's not prepared on Mondays, Miss Hough.

Ray is another of those wise-crackers who never run out of words. He was a prisoner in the Senior Play who did his little bit for Sing-Sing, by ushering.

Ray is president of the Radio Club and a member of the Math and Chemistry Clubs.

Radio seems to be Ray's chief interest; whether he'll be a radio engineer or radio announcer, he isn't sure.

PHILIP HOLLAND

"PHIL"

Phil has always held our admiration because he is so calm and talks in such a matter of fact way when everyone else is hot and bothered in an argument.

We don't know how much time Phil devotes to his studies, but he certainly is brilliant. He seems to have general information on just about every subject.

Philip is a member of the Chemistry Club and he likes to read.

He will enter the University of Pennsylvania to prepare to become a physician.

ROBERT HOPPER

"BOB"

"Oh Ye-ah?"

Bob is another of those good-natured fellows. He is always ready to do what is asked of him.

Bob's time outside of school is spent playing basketball, and fixing automobiles. The National also comes in for its share of Bob's attention. In fact he spends quite a bit of time in the one on Broad Street.

His vocation is undecided, but Bob expects to work at something, however. Maybe he'll be the President of the National Grocery Company. Who knows?

HOWARD HOWARTH

"HOWIE"

"I'll be seein' you"

Howard is another B. H. S. boy who has always been quiet and for this golden gift has been well liked. His character and personality are excellent.

Howard is a member of the Commercial Club.

He never has any spare time because he is always working on a machine. What machine? It's a secret, but Howie has a Ford.

Having had enough practice on automobile motors, Howie has decided to be an Aero mechanic, and with all his knowledge about motors, he cannot be a failure.

GEORGE H. HUTTER

"HUT"

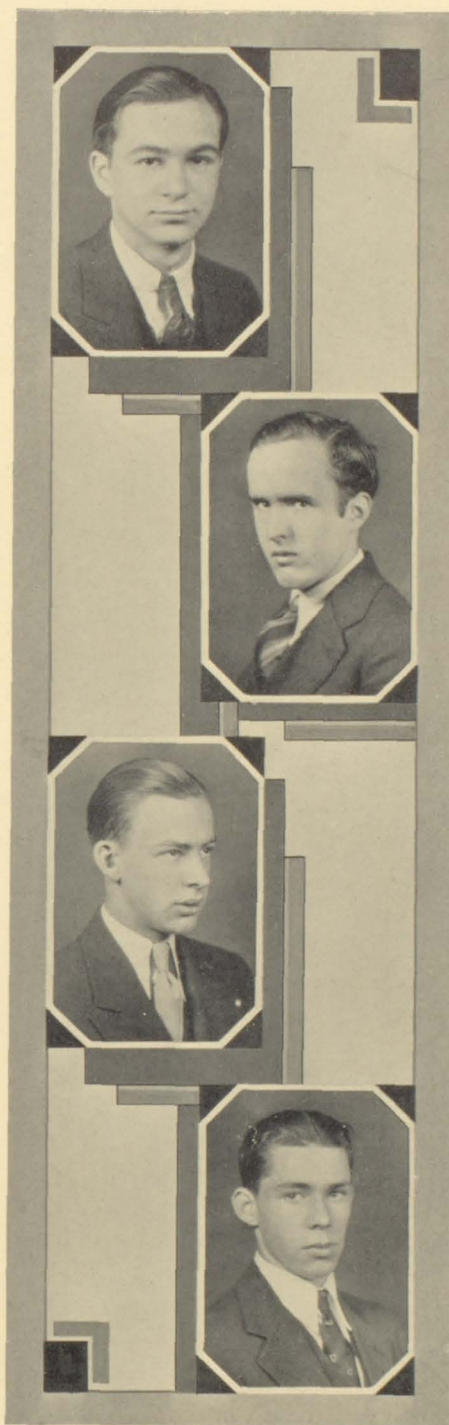

"Nertz"

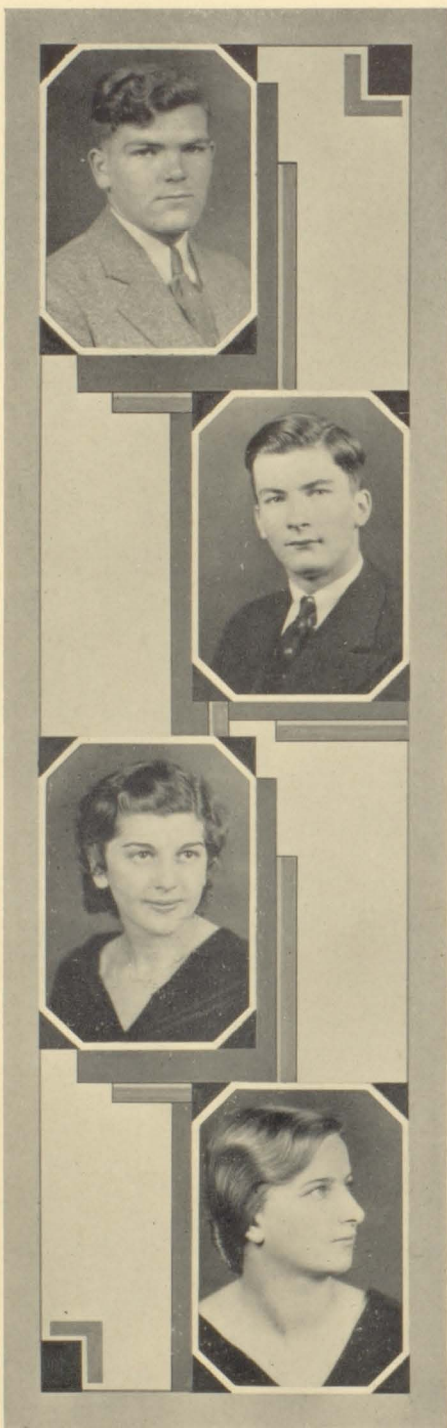

Hut doesn't look like a farmer, although he does come from Cedar Grove. He is one of the most ambitious boys of our class, graduating in three years.

Because of an excess of school work, Hut has been unable to devote much time to sports, but he is an active member of the Chem Club.

Hut's favorite pastime is disintegrating machinery. He must have a model T Ford.

He intends to study Electrical Engineering, and is bound for Newark Tech.

HURLEY JAEGER

"CURLY"

"Hey, you pumpkin' head!"

Taxi? Taxi? Hurley really isn't a taxi driver, but he took the part in "First Night."

The nickname Curly really is very fitting, because of Hurley's blonde curly hair. He frequently had it mussed up when he played tackle for B. H. S. last year. He likes football, perhaps because it's a man's game.

Curly also likes horseback riding, swimming, and tinkering with cars. When he said he liked guns we were sure he belonged to the National Guard, but "Art" hasn't persuaded him yet.

JACK JUDD

"J. J."

"Nertz"

Jack is one member of our class who can call himself a cosmopolitan. He was born in Antwerp, Belgium, and he lived in France and other European countries before he came to America. His first American residence was in Oak Park, Illinois.

He came to Bloomfield and entered B. H. S. as a Sophomore. He was a year behind our class then, but he has developed into one of those rare animals, the three year student. Jack is a member of the Math, Chemistry, Dramatic, and Glee Clubs. J. J. has been on the baseball squad, and he also plays tennis, basketball, and golf. He was quarterback on the Rangers' football team. His vocation is to be engineering.

FLORA KARAS

"FLO"

"You're a little devil."

Flora is one girl who never has the blues. She is the proud owner of one of the nicest smiles in the school, and she's not a bit "stingy" in using it. "Flo" has a charming personality.

She is quite an athlete too. Besides being a member of the Senior Gym Team, she played for two years on the champion basketball team. She was captain of one of these teams. Flora is the Secretary of the Girl Reserves, and is a member of the French, Chemistry, and Dramatic Clubs.

"Flo" played "Betty," the cigarette girl, in our Senior Play.

Her future vocation will be journalism, in which we know she will be a success.

ELIZABETH KING

"BETTY"

"I'll bite!"

The proud possessor of a broad grin. Elizabeth is never a bit close in using it either.

She is fond of swimming, canoeing and rowing, dancing, roller skating, and last but not least, ping-pong. Elizabeth is a faithful attendant at all football and baseball games. She is a member of the French and Chemistry Clubs, and of the Girl Reserves.

Betty is going to be a nurse. She will enter the Englewood Hospital Training School at Englewood.

WARREN KING

"KINGIE"

"Whoops, Doctor!"

Yes, this is the big tall fellow who has all the information. He was the real "Duke" in "First Night," and he had a fine time trying to "shoot his way out." He belongs to the Hi-y, and has been a member of the basketball squad and the tennis team. He likes yachting and swimming, and he is the captain of the student swimming team at the Montclair Y. M. C. A. He has seldom been beaten in a swimming meet. His natural aquatic ability has been aided by the fact that he lived for some time in Florida, where it was possible for him to swim every day.

Warren has not definitely decided what his life work will be, but he has considered commercial aviation. Happy landings, Kingie!

EVA KOEHLEIN

"EVE"

"For heaven's sake!"

Eve always gets a kick out of things. She is always laughing and having a good time. That's the only way to be, isn't it, Eva?

The Spanish, Commercial, and Home Economics Clubs are just a few of Eve's after-school activities. She also likes to dance, swim, and ice skate. She didn't waste much time with the latter this year. Chasing a little white ball for miles and miles over a golf course is another of Eve's hobbies.

There is going to be another efficient private secretary when Eva graduates.

STANLEY KOHLER

"STAN"

"Hot cha!"

If you've ever seen "Stan" really serious for more than five minutes you're lucky. He has a reputation for being an optimist, and we think he is. Don't you?

Stan belongs to the Chemistry Club and he really is very scientific. He likes Math, too. You have heard him repeatedly inquire, "Do your Trig?" Stanley works out with the Track Team. He also contributed his talent to the Senior Play.

Next fall, Stanley will enter Lehigh University.

EDYTHE KOLTER

"EDYTHE"

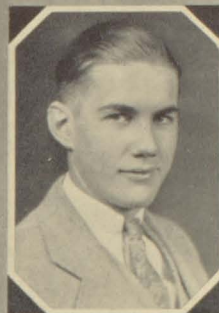

"Wait a minute."

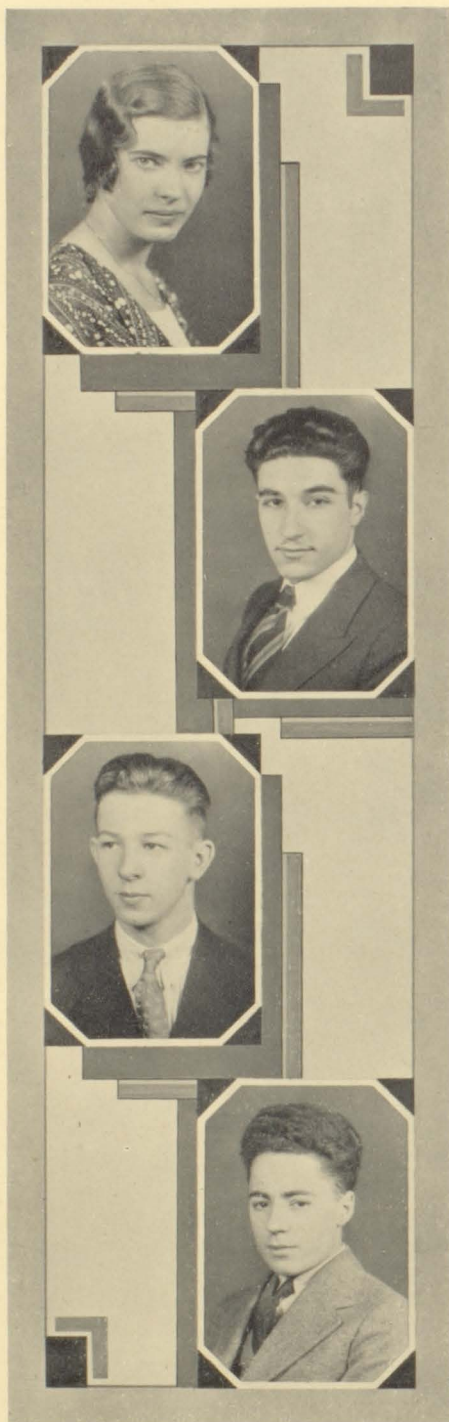

A smile charmante, mixed together with a winning personality and lots of pep, all go to make up Edythe. She has many friends, but a one-man woman is she—maybe Russ is his name.

Edythe is obliging, too. Why, what would the "Student Prints" staff do without her typing, or even those English students with their books to be typewritten?

She is one of our three-and-a-half-year students. She is secretary of the Junior Red Cross Council, and she excels on the Senior Gym Team.

Business College will be graced by Edythe's presence. Some stenog she'll be!

EVELYN KRATZ

"Ev"

"You would!"

Evelyn came to B. H. S. from Walton High School in New York. "Ev" is one of the quietest girls in the school, but in spite of this fact, she has a personality that is admirable.

She is one of that select organization, the Girls' Gym Team, and also belongs to the Commercial Club. Her favorite pastimes are swimming, dancing, and skating.

As a future vocation Evelyn has decided to design costumes.

CARMINE A. LALLY

"CARL"

"I prefer blondes."

"Non ho fatto mente! Sono un buon nome!" Don't get excited. That was only Rizzo, the white-washer, alias Carl, spilling off some Italian. But everyone will agree that he was a big help in the Senior Play.

Due to his quiet, peaceful nature, Carl seems to give us the impression of deep thought. He is one of the big cash-and-carry men of the class. In other words, he lends his services to the A. & P. This seems an insignificant position compared to what Carl's future position will be. To be an M. D. is the height of his ambition, and we're sure of his success.

FREDERIC LAVENBURG

"GOVERNOR"

"Where is Olson?"

Fred is a jolly fellow who wears a constant grin and is always ready to laugh. He is a perfect double of Al Smith, and impersonated the ex-governor of New York in the Senior Play. He was a success and drew many laughs. Fred is a member of the Dramatic Club and the Chemistry Club. His sport is track and for several seasons he has been on the squad. His hobbies are music and French literature. After a course at the University of Buffalo, Fred intends to become a "painless" dentist. Here's hoping all your patients pay their bills, Fred.

ERIC LAVERY

"PIERRE"

"Rats!"

Have you ever listened to Eric talk? His Scotch accent makes him a very interesting speaker, although we rarely have an opportunity to have a long conversation with him because he is rather seclusive.

Eric likes to read and he enjoys good music. He is quite talented in playing the violin, and has played in the orchestra.

Outside of school Eric interests himself in soccer and spends his spare time participating in De Molay activities.

After graduation Eric plans to be an archaeologist.

EDITH MARION LAW

"EDIE"

"You big hambone."

Edie is another one of our quiet girls. Everyone knows, though, how nice she is. A pleasant smile and a gentle disposition are just a couple of her attributes.

The Commercial and Home Economics Clubs are on her list of activities. She is also active in the Student Council.

Outside of school, swimming, reading, and ice-skating, as well as dancing, take up some of her spare time.

When she leaves the stately portals of Bloomfield High, Edie is going to become a Dental Hygienist. She will probably go to the Newark Vocational School to pursue her studies.

JOHN GEORGE LEISS

"JOHNNIE"

"Do you love me?"

Johnnie Leiss, master of ceremonies, par excellence! Everyone in school knows Johnnie, and we've all seen him in action at least once. He was master of ceremonies for the Hi-Y minstrel, for the "Student Prints" Revue, and for the Hi-Y charity performance, "Free Wheeling." He also played the part of an important character in "The Shannons of Broadway."

Johnnie was treasurer of the June '31 class for three years, he belongs to the Hi-Y and he played on the second football team in 1929.

He is undecided about his vocation, but he has considered entering a school of dramatics. Johnnie is sure to succeed in this field.

DOROTHY MAE LIVINGSTON

"DOT"

"Maybe you're wrong"

Cute, hey what! Dot Livingston is one of the finest girls in B. H. S. She is one of those few red heads in our class, too.

She was a former member of both the Commercial and Spanish Clubs.

Among her favorite sports are swimming, dancing, reading, and ice-skating. Can she skate? And how!

Dot is going to become a nurse, and for this reason she is going to train in East Orange Homeopathic Hospital.

DANIEL LYNCH

"MICKEY"

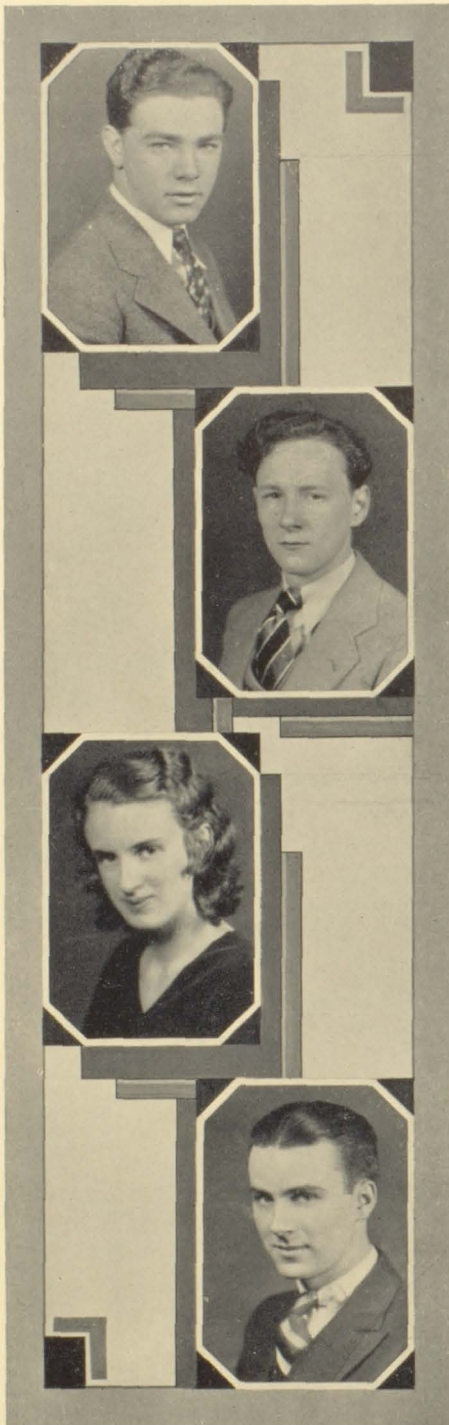

"She did, eh!"

Mickey is another of our noted dancers. And is he good? Ask the ladies, and they'll all chorus the affirmative. But do you blame them, when Mickey's such a good sort?

In classes, he puts on an aspect of dignity and reserve, but somehow we know better. Mickey sprints around in track and plays baseball too. He's a member of the Chem Club. His hobbies include swimming and crashing parties. Naughty, naughty!

Mickey expects to go out in the business world—another broker on Wall Street, maybe.

ORRIN MacMURRAY
"MAC"

"You would!"

Cheer leading is Orrin's main school activity, but it is by no means his only one. He has been on the football squad and the track team, and he is a member of the Math, Sphinx, Dramatic, and Glee Clubs.

The actor who played "Joe," the convict stage manager in "First Night" in the first performance was Orrin. His good performance was made especially remarkable by the fact that he had to learn his lines in two days.

Ice-skating, swimming, horse-back riding, and football are his favorite hobbies, and he is going to study Aeronautical Engineering at the Curtis Wright flying school.

ALBERT J. MARSH
"JACK"

"Old Sniffle-Snaffle"

Here is another one of those boys who are named one thing and called another. Not many people know that Jack's name is Albert. He's just plain Jack to all of us.

The Chemistry Club claims some of Jack's time while he is in school.

Jack likes to make a lot of noise, and he can always be heard. He makes no bones about letting people know he is around. Jack is a good sport, noise and all.

ELEANOR McCLOUD
"EL"

"Where's Lorna?"

Who doesn't know Eleanor? My! but you've missed a lot.

She's been our class secretary for two years, at the same time being secretary for the Sphinx Club. She was also treasurer of the French Club. The Debating Club, Latin Club, and the Chemistry Club are honored with her membership. Eleanor was a member of the Junior Prom Committee in '30. She is now serving us on the Annual Board.

She has been a member of the champion basketball team for two years and of the Senior Gym Team.

ROBERT McCLOUD
"MAC"

"Be good!"

"Ready, aim, fire!" Don't get worried because there isn't a war, it's only "Mac MacCloud" having a little target practice. "Mac" spent the last two summers at the C. M. T. C. camp at Piatzburg, and he is a sharpshooter.

Bob likes swimming, skating, and dancing. He and his "pal" Murray are very eccentric. Their favorite pastime is watching the water go over the falls at Little Falls. They usually reach their destination by way of Montclair High. We wonder!

Bob is one of our three and one-half year students. Good work, Robert! He plans to enter the business world after studying at Benton Business College.

MARGARET McGLYNN

"MIGGS"

"You make me unhappy."

Poor kid! Someone is always "making her unhappy" or causing her to fret, so she continually says. In reality, though, Miggs always wears a smile and carries a laugh that is hard to imitate. It brightens the spirits of all who know her.

Miggs's outside activities include the Spanish Club, of which she is vice-president, the Commercial Club, and the Senior Gym Team. Every Wednesday night she is heavily engaged with—something other than homework.

According to rumors, Mr. Foley and Miggs are planning to publish a book on punctuation, but whether they're writing one book together or separate ones, we aren't sure.

After graduation Miggs intends to enter Drake. All we can say is, good luck Miggs.

CATHERINE McNAMARA

"KITTY"

"For the love of Mike!"

Little, but oh my! Catherine is a peppy member of the commercial group of our class. She is active in the Commercial and Spanish Clubs. The Home Economics Club also has her name on its list of members.

Catherine loves to swim, dance, and skate. We wager she's quite skilled at all of them.

Her chief ambition is to be a private secretary. We envy her employer.

DAVID McNEELY

"DAVE"

"How are things going?"

David is the coming scientist of B. H. S. It is rumored that he works until the wee hours of the morning experimenting with "this and that." David is proficient in most everything he tries.

After attending Montclair Teachers College he will teach science somewhere. Perhaps in B. H. S., who knows? He is a member of the Chemistry Club.

David is also fond of tennis and other sports in season. It seems to run in the family.

RICHARD McNEELY

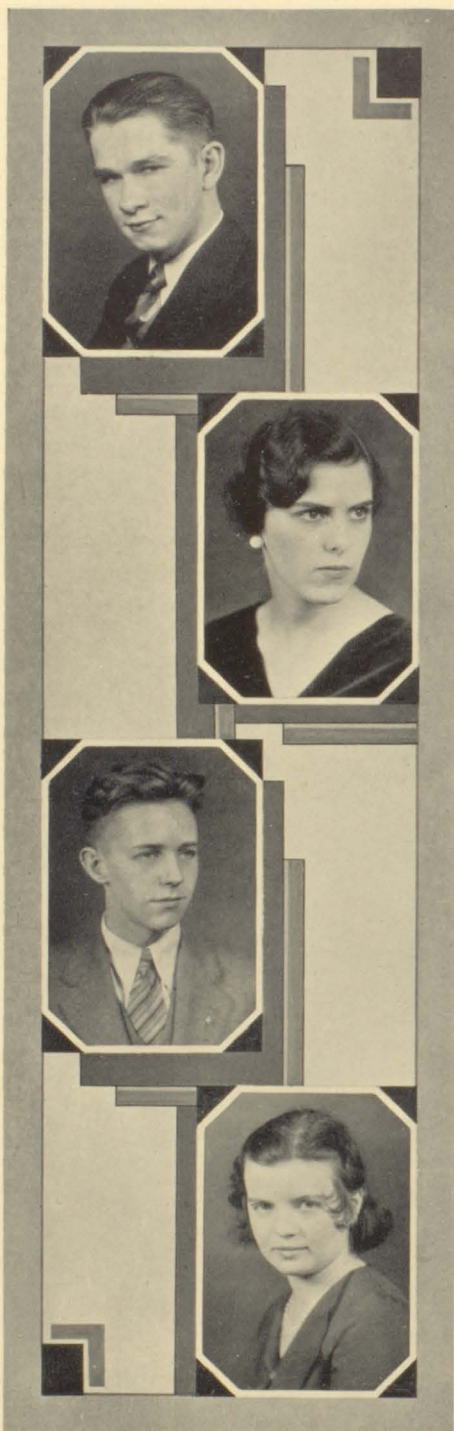

"MAC"

"Let's go, boys"

Mac's been quite a figure at Senior Plays, for besides playing the part of Gordon, he was the Bark in "Pals First" and one of the hefty guards in "First Night."

Mac was unable to graduate with the February class because of illness. We welcome him into our midst. He was voted the best athlete in the February class because of his outstanding playing at center in football. He was injured early in the season and could not play for the rest of the games. His 1930 season was his best, for he was the mainstay of the line.

HARRY McNEY

"MAC"

"Howaya!"

"Yo' shot me! Yo' shot me!" So George, the colored porter, alias Harry, settled the fate of the innocent boy in the Senior Play. As the comedy man, the success of the part showed Harry's acting ability, and did he bring down the house!

That Harry hails from Maryland is evident by his sunny nature and drawling voice. As for originality, "Mac" gets the prize for his Gandhi rigging on Baby day. And that isn't all—for Harry does shine in French, so he claims; but that's all right, Harry, we think so, even if Miss Heartz doesn't.

The University of Maryland is where he's bound to find out all the dope on presidents and such.

ELSIE McRAE

"MAC"

"So what—if any?"

Yes, this is the beautiful young lady, whose favorite diversion is riding in—not red and black roadsters—but "a red and black roadster." We're not sure who drives that car, but we do know that—well, he is lucky.

Another of Elsie's hobbies is swimming, and she boasts membership in the English, Commercial, Spanish, and Dramatic Clubs. She has worked as a sports writer on the staff of the "Student Prints."

After graduation Elsie intends to spend enough time away from the above-mentioned roadster to be a private secretary for some lucky business man.

MELVIN MICHELL

"MEL"

"Who's the Babe?"

Melvin likes aviation. He intends to become a pilot, and is continually building models. Inclined to be a joker, he has caused countless coughs in Chemistry lab by boiling off acids. Although he occasionally wears glasses, we are not sure whether it is to study or whether it is to be able to observe members of the fair sex more easily. He is quite handy with a pistol or a rifle, and belongs to the Rifle Club which has just been formed. Here's hoping he will always make "happy landings."

OLIVE F. MILLER

"BOB"

"You see it was this way"

The perennial sunbeam! A likeable lass with a smile for everyone. Her chief desire is to have a good time. Her desires are usually fulfilled. Perhaps her absent-mindedness is caused by a certain interest in New Hampshire.

Olive is particularly fond of snow-shoeing and swimming. We wonder what she does in the meantime. Oh yes, she likes to dance; maybe that solves the mystery.

The Chemistry Club and the Girl Reserves claim her membership. What Olive will do in the future is a mystery. She doesn't even know herself.

PERRY MILLER

"DUTCHIE"

"On general principles."

B. H. S. may some day be proud of Perry. Can't you just picture him in a white gown with a knife in his hand? No, he's not going to be a butcher, or at least we hope not, but a surgeon. Wheaton may be his first step in attaining those heights.

He is a member of the Chemistry Club and a former president of the Glee Club. He also plays a viola in the Orchestra.

Perry has a weakness for old books and historical records. He is also fond of tennis and swimming.

JOHN MOGLIA

"JOHNNY"

John is the boy with the lifesavers. He is never without them. There always seems to be something for John to do, and he generally does it. He is secretary and treasurer of the Chemistry Club and the treasurer of the Sphinx Society. He belongs to the Math Club, and was assistant manager of the Senior Play. Johnny is also assistant manager of our Annual. He surely does know how to manage. Tennis and swimming are his favorite hobbies. John does not yet know what he will do when he finishes high school.

JOSEPH MOONEY

"JOE"

Joe came to B. H. S. from Seton Hall Prep in the beginning of his Junior year and has entered into the activities of B. H. S. with deep interest. He is well liked by his classmates, and has finished his high school work with credit.

Joe intends to go to the Newark College of Engineering to study Electrical Engineering.

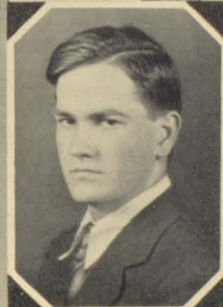

HELEN L. MOORA

"HELEN"

"Yes, indeed!"

Another blonde, but nevertheless a charming one. Helen is an attractive personage in our class. She is one of those famous Chi Chi Sigma Girls.

Helen likes hiking, horseback riding, and drawing. She spends much time in the Art room, where she is appreciated greatly. Helen wishes to take up dress designing as a profession. She will study at the Traphagen School of Fashions in New York City. In the future we may all be wearing creations by Moora. Who knows?

LOIS MOORE

"Lo"

"Doesn't my hair look terrible!"

Lo came to us in 1930 from Newton High in Mass. She was active there in several sports, chief among which were field-hockey and basketball, and she played on her class team in both sports. Besides participating in athletics she likes to watch boys' games, especially ice hockey and polo.

Lois has made many friends of B. H. S. students and teachers. Her favorite teacher is Mr. Ross.

She hopes to become a private secretary and is going to attend either Katherine Gibbs School in New York or Lasell Seminary in Boston next year.

JOSEPH MOORE

"Joe"

"Sca-rew"

"Wait'll I take a look at the skoit!" A hard-boiled yegg—that's Joe. At least, that's what he was in the Senior Play, and he played the tough convict to a "T."

And maybe Joe can't play football! All we can say is we're mighty proud to class him with all our other stars.

Joe can't seem to keep away from the molls—or else is it get away? Anyhow, we know they all like him.

A Hi-Yan and member of the Student Council are other activities of Joe.

Notre Dame is the place for him after graduation to become, maybe, another horseman (the special kind).

KATHLEEN MORRIS

"BARNEY"

"Blow me down"

Kathleen has many extra-curricular activities among which are German Club, Senior Gym Team, Student Council, and "Student Prints." She was technical adviser of the Senior Play and is now the vice-president of the Athletic Association Board. She is quite a basketball and baseball player, having played on her class teams.

Besides all this, Kathleen is a three-and-a-half year student. Quite an accomplishment, isn't it? When she leaves Bloomfield High she expects to take up nursing at some hospital in New York.

JEAN MORRISON

"JEAN"

"I've been playin' tiddly winks with manhole covers."

Jean is a small girl, but her size is no handicap to her. Her reddish gold hair and blue eyes make her appearance noticeable, and as she plays tiddly winks with manhole covers for a pastime, imagine what she can do when she gets to work!

Her school activities keep her busy. She is a member of the Girl Reserves, the French and the Chemistry Clubs. She performs with real ability on the Senior Gym Team, also.

Her hobbies are dancing and all outdoor sports.

Jean is going to the nursing school at the Orange Homeopathic Hospital.

NORMAN MULLER

"SPAGHETTI"

"Why men leave home"

Norm says that he doesn't like girls, but some of the girls have told us that they like Norm. There must be a reason.

Perhaps the girls think Norm can get them free tickets to the Royal Theatre, where he works during his spare time.

Norm has played soccer on the school team and has played tennis as outside gym work. He belongs to the Chemistry Club and the Hi-Y. He also plays the piano very well.

Norm will probably prepare for Mechanical Engineering at the Newark Technical School.

SALVATORE NICOSIA

"Nic"

How do you like that haircomb? The girls use it for a mirror, and the boys love to muss it up, but Nic doesn't mind at all.

In Nic we find an exceedingly quiet style but fine personality and character.

He is a member of the Commercial Club and has participated in many interclass sports.

His favorite pastimes are soccer, baseball, and shop work.

For a future vocation Nic has decided to be an architect, and we wish him luck and success in this profession.

A. JOSEPHINE NIEBERGALL

"Jo"

"Hot dogs!"

Another budding secretary. Yes, Josephine expects to take up secretarial work upon graduating.

During her high school career Josephine has affiliated herself with the Spanish, Glee, and Commercial Clubs. She is also on the Junior Gym Team.

Reading, ice-skating, swimming, dancing, and singing claim her spare time.

ALBERT OGOREVC

"BERT"

"Oh, yeah!"

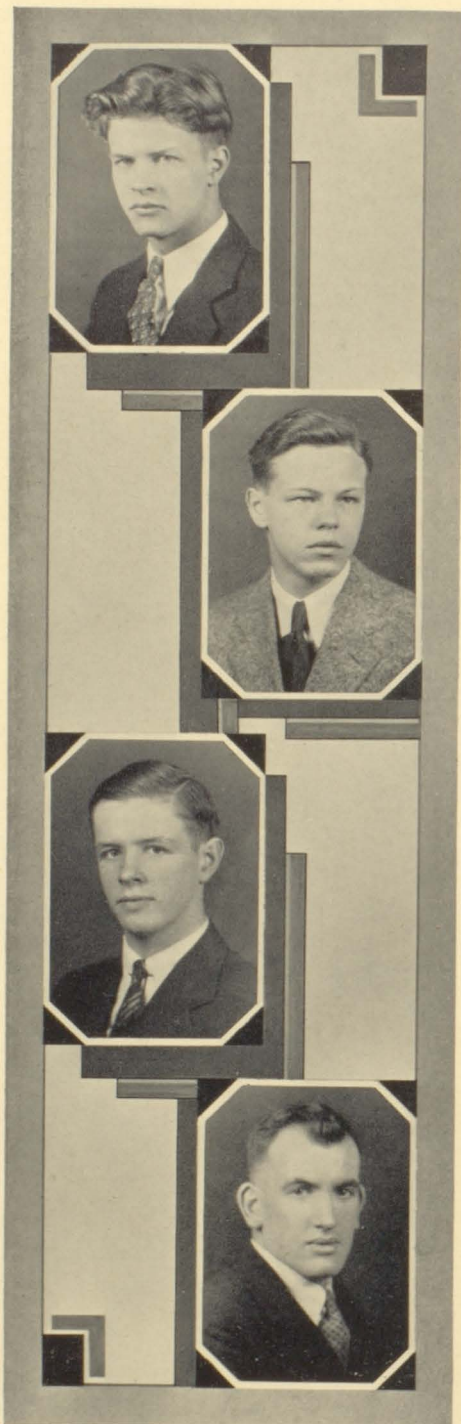

Teachers, marks, and homework never did give Bert qualms or woe. In fact, she's nonchalant wherever she goes. She's absent at 8:14 and present at 8:15. Say, how do you work it? How about giving us a tip?

She's small—but, oh my, does she know how to get there! Maybe it's her smile, who knows?

Bert is one of those who likes the cool airy halls, and to wander through them is one of her favorite pastimes. Yes, classes can be boring!

Bert plans to become a trained nurse, and we know she will be a good one.

EDWARD E. OGOREVC

"EDDIE"

Although most high school boys are boisterous and noisy, we have a few exceptions, and Eddie is at the head of the B. H. S. list. He is one of the quietest boys this side of the Mississippi.

Nevertheless, Eddie makes himself known in a different manner, his school activity. He has participated in many inter-class sports; he also belongs to the Chemistry Club and the Spanish Club, and, last but not least, Eddie plays a violin beautifully.

His favorite out of school activities are fishing and swimming.

RALPH OLSON

"OLLIE"

"Good old Lavenburg!"

"Ollie" likes to make a lot of noise, and it generally isn't hard to know when he's around. In spite of all his noise, he's a good sport and well liked around the school.

He is a member of the Chemistry and Dramatic Clubs. The Glee Club is enhanced by his charming voice, also.

When he's outside of school, "Ollie" is fond of all sports, and we wouldn't be surprised if he spent a good deal of time indulging in them.

After leaving us all here in Bloomfield, he intends to attend some college in order to take up Business Administration. As yet the exact college has not been decided upon.

ROBERT O'MARA

"Bo"

"I'll be darned!"

Bob is a likable chap, a willing worker, always ready to lend a hand. Bob goes for sports in a big way; after going out for baseball and football, he played goalie on the newly formed soccer team. He organized a football team of High School Seniors, called the Rangers, and he was an important factor in their undefeated record. Believe it or not, "Bo" likes to read and to drive a fast car. He intends to become a manager in the meat packing industry after completing a Business Administration Course at Fordham.

JOHN O'REILLY

"JOHN"

John joined us last fall, coming from Scotland. We feel honored to have some one from such a far away place among us.

When in Scotland, John attended Rutherglen Academy in Glasgow. While there he was in the Swimming Club and on the school Soccer Team. He also played on all his class teams—quite an accomplishment.

These two activities, swimming and soccer, as well as radio, are John's chief pastimes.

He is fond of good books and is also interested in baseball. He would like to have a chance to become better acquainted with it.

After graduation he hopes to go to college and take a classical course.

JOSEPH O'REILLY

"JOE"

Joe is another one of those delightful Scotch people who came to us last fall. He is very quiet, but he is well liked among his classmates.

Drawing and music are Joe's special hobbies. He plays the piano very well. He is also quite proficient at sports. Swimming, soccer, boxing, and cycle-racing are his favorites.

It is remarkable the way in which Joe has accustomed himself to our school and customs, which must be so different from those in Scotland.

We certainly are glad to have had Joe in our school, and hope he has enjoyed his short stay with us.

GLADYS PEMBERTHY

"GLAD"

She's that tall slim person who is seen constantly with either Edith Conklin or Rose Zawish. One of her accomplishments is graduating in three and a half years. Gladys has been a member of the Senior Gym Team since her Junior year. She has been on her class baseball and basketball teams during her high school years, so you can easily conclude that Gladys is rather athletic. (And by the way, you ought to see her sink some beautiful foul shots.) Gladys has that faculty of being able to get along with people; also a fine spirit of cooperation. And have you ever seen her smile? S'marvelous!

She is now serving as treasurer of the Commercial Club and intends to grace the office of some big business man in the capacity of secretary or stenographer.

ROBERT PERRINE

"BOB"

The big business man of the senior class. Bob's ability as such cannot be denied, for he managed successfully the Senior Play, the Annual, the B. H. S. Handbook, and the track team for 1932.

In the meanwhile Bob was the President of the Math Club and a member of the Student Council. He is fond of summer sports, like tennis, swimming, and baseball.

Bob intends to study at Cornell for a degree in Chemical or Electrical engineering. His qualities of leadership and his general ability should carry him far in this field.

LORNA PETERKIN

"PETE"

"What do you think?"

Lorna is one of the members of our class who are artistically inclined. She is also President of the French Club. Clever girl, N'est-ce pas?

"Pete" has been a member of the Latin, Chemistry, and Debating Clubs, Senior Gym Team and Girls' Basketball Team. Yes, she is an athlete as well as an artist.

Her hobbies are ice-skating, tennis, swimming, drawing, and "palling" with Eleanor.

We are indebted to Lorna as art editor of "The Salute," and we know that with her talent and ambition she will some day be a well known textile designer. She plans to go to Pratt Institute to study textile designing.

DOROTHY PETERSON

"Dot"

Dot is one of our noted musicians of whom we are proud. She is a sweet, demure demoiselle who has many friends in school (both sexes). She is greatly interested in swimming and dancing, and spends her time outside in reading, music, and sometimes, homework.

We don't know much else about Dot because she doesn't let you in on all her secrets, but she keeps us wondering.

Dot expects to go to Katherine Gibbs College in New York and become somebody's secretary, either in business or domestic life.

MICHAEL A. PETILLO

"MICKEY"

"Sorry, I'm all tied up"

Mickey is one of the more reserved members of our class. He says little but accomplishes much. We are sure that he will succeed if he continues in this manner.

Mickey has played on the school soccer team where he made a very credible showing. He was also a guard in that most famous of Senior Plays, "First Night."

Although uncertain as to the school at which he is to study, Mickey is intent upon being an engineer.

EDITH PHILLIPS

"EDITH"

"Oh! Mercy!"

Another cosmopolitan person. Edith came to us in her senior year from Korea. Her ability to speak Korean is remarkable. Just ask her and see.

Although Edith has been here only a short time, she has connected herself with the French and Chemistry Clubs. She plays basketball and was a member of the champion basketball team this year. Edith gained renown in writing the prize winning essay in the Lincoln Essay Contest.

Edith is planning to attend Wilson College, where she will study to be a medical missionary. We are sure that she will do her bit in aiding mankind.

ROBERT PIEPER

"BOB"

"Scram!"

"Come on, you guys, cut out the gab, and get to work!" Tough and stern, would you believe it of Bob? But that was in the Senior Play, when he played the part of Hogan, commanding guard. In reality, though, Bob is noted for his happy disposition and good-nature.

Bob is one of our famous big, handsome athletes, and he showed his worth in football, baseball, and basketball. He is active in the Chemistry Club and Hi-Y. Bob is nice to all the women, but at heart, he's a one-woman man.

As for the future, Bob intends to enter business or Notre Dame.

MAY EVELYN PIERSON

"KID"

"I guess you're right"

May is one of the attractive brunette members of our class. She seems rather quiet, but we know she appreciates a good time. Did you ever notice that May greets everyone with a friendly smile?

May was Treasurer of the Spanish Club, a member of the Girl Reserves, Commercial, and Home Economics Clubs. She likes music, too, and played the piano for the orchestra and sings for the Glee Club. That's quite a long list of activities, but May manages very well.

May plans to be a secretary. Some employer will be lucky to secure the services of one as capable, efficient, and attractive as May.

DONNA A. PINKHAM

"LYDIA"

"Am I good! Boy, am I good!"

Entrez, the big bluff. But really there is quite a bit to Donna, after all. The world in general is very painful to her, but she has some very original ideas which may some day make her a famous person. We hope so, anyway.

Donna's originality gives her a very pleasing personality. She is well liked by everyone. This is shown by the fact that she is treasurer of the Girl Reserves.

Donna is fond of sports, swimming especially. She was a member of the champion basketball team in her Junior year.

NEWELL RAND

"WOOD"

"For gosh sakes!"

"Wood" is one of those popular football players. In fact, he is a popular baseball and basketball player as well as a trackster.

Sports aren't the only things Newell is interested in, however. The Student Council, Dramatic Club, and Chemistry Club are some of his other activities. One of the most important parts in the Senior Play, "First Night," was taken by "Wood," and he made a great success of it, too.

Dartmouth College is due to receive another Bloomfield boy when Newell leaves here.

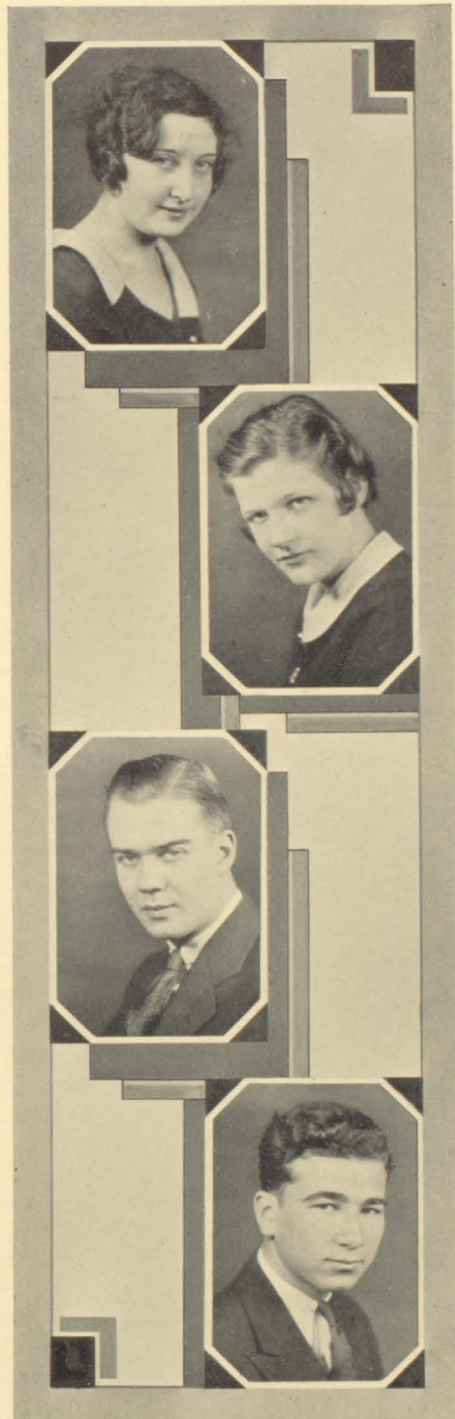

ANGELO RECENELLO

"RUSS"

"Where there's a will there's a way"

Honk! Honk! Hold on, everybody! A whirring rattle, and then—whiz, it's past us. That was only the famous Recenello truck, with Russ at the wheel. Try and pass him! Through Russ's good-nature though, we know we can ride in the back if we hold on.

Russ also lent his talents to our Senior play, in which he shone as Pisano, the shrewd detective. And does Russ play a mean piano! Judging from the entertainment he furnished during play practice, he's pretty good! He is a prominent member of the Dramatic Club. Something pertaining to literature and dramatics is Russ's decision for his future vocation.

WILLIAM REDFEARN

"BILL"

"That's all there is"

Bill seems to be very much interested in sports, such as baseball, track, basketball, and so forth. Although so inclined, he seems to practice none of these. We often wonder why!

Bill's friendly smile has won him many friends in high school, and we are sure that it will win him many more in whatever field he makes his career.

JOHN REID

"SONNY"

Sonny is the boy who can be sure of making a good, substantial gain once he gets his hands on the ball. The football team would be at a loss without him. Football isn't his only sport, though. He also plays baseball and is a member of the track team.

Outside of school, skating and swimming take up some of his time. Sonny has that bad habit of crashing parties. That is bad business, John.

Sonny is one of the most popular boys in the class, and he can also claim good looks.

As to what he is going to do when he leaves the walls of Bloomfield High, John has not yet decided.

JAMES RICHARDSON, Jr.

"JIMMY RICH JR."

"Hello there!"

Although Jimmy spends most of his time eating, sleeping, eating again, then sleeping, and then—Oh, well, you know what we mean, he is one of B. H. S.'s most valuable boys.

He sings second bass in the B. H. S. Glee Club, and is a member of the track team.

Jimmy loves his high school so much that he's going to take a post graduate course, after which he is going to Rutgers University. Upon completing his course at Rutgers, Jimmy expects to attend Pennsylvania University. He intends to be a dentist, so if you have any bad teeth, just wait for Jimmy, he'll fix 'em.

STANLEY RICHARDSON

"STAN"

"Judas priest!"

Stan has been with us for only one year. He came to Bloomfield from Nutley, and the Nutleyites must have been sorry to see him go, for he was a prominent student while there. He was a budget officer, a member of the Math Club, which sent him to the Student Council, a member of the Physics Club, and home room representative to the Student Council.

He is interested in radio. His hobbies are swimming and camping.

Stan will study Mechanical Engineering at Northeastern University.

FRED RICHENBURG

"FRED"

Fred comes to B. H. S. all the way from Brookdale every day. He takes the long ride in his Ford, but we've never seen him riding alone.

Although he hasn't reached his majority yet, Fred has already done jury duty. He played Mr. Sharp, the jury foreman, in the Senior Play, and had the distinction of speaking to Governor "Al" Smith before the whole audience.

Fred had a little accident while the play was in rehearsal. He accidentally spilled Mr. Crosby's solution of epsom salts, but Dix didn't mind at all, at all.

EMMA RICHTER

"Em"

"Golly!"

Em is one of those quiet, well-behaved girls, at least around school, but we can't speak for her outside. She is well-liked, though, and has many friends in school.

Em is a member of the Spanish and Home Economics Clubs. Her hobbies, dancing, swimming, and ice-skating reveal a bit of her outside self—not so quiet, perhaps.

Em is going to peg some big boss's typewriter someday. Then maybe she'll graduate and become his private secretary, and then—well, you never can tell!

OVID RIZZOLO

"RIZZI"

"Take it on the chin and like it!"

Hail to our poet and dreamer! Rizzi some day will be a poet laureate, and that's no kiddin'!

He comes from Barringer and all we can say is, tough luck for Barringer! No one seems to know when Rizzi's around because he's not very talkative, but still he has many friends in school. He is uncertain about his future vocation, but why worry, Rizzi! With your talent—gee!

ALVAN ROGERS

"RED"

Alvan has red hair, but believe it or not, he hasn't a temper. At least he has kept it well controlled in school.

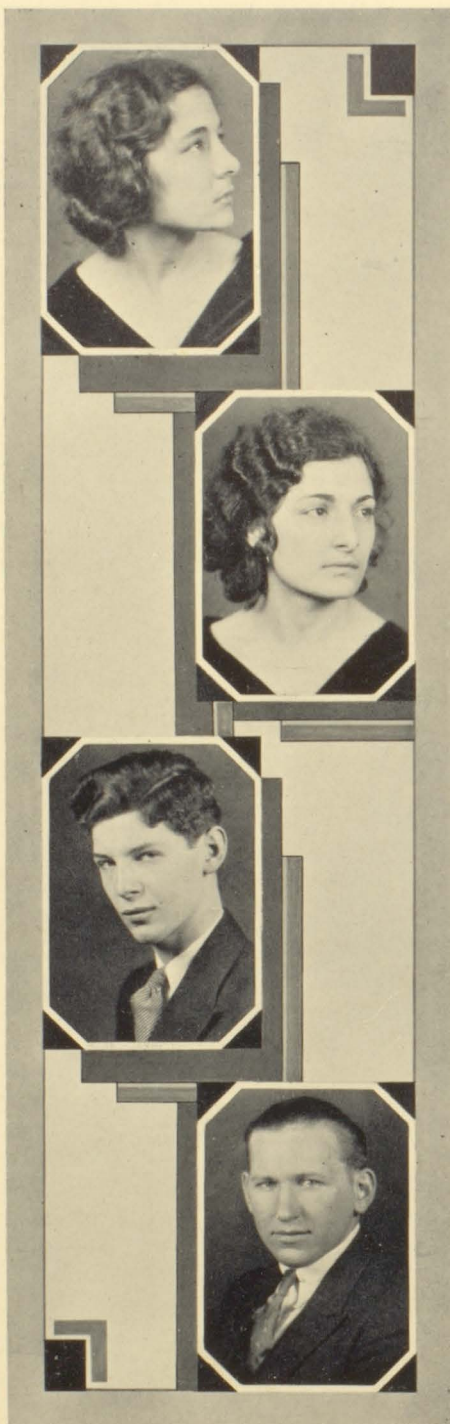

Red and Irving Trimmer are practically inseparable pals. These two are real "partners in crime."

Red likes boats, horses, and automobiles. In other words, he likes to go places by various means.

Alvan is a member of the Chemistry Club, and he likes to experiment in lab. It's one of the wonders of the world that the Chemistry Lab. is still intact.

Red plans to go to Newark Tech this fall, where he will continue his education.

JILDA SANT AMBROGIO

"JILDA"

"Where you going?"

Introducing some of the musical talent of our class—Jilda, and can she make those keys trill! If you don't believe it, how about all the musical contests Jilda has starred in? You can guess we're proud to say she's in our class.

Jilda is noted also for her jolly nature. Besides being a shining member of the school orchestra, she also radiates on the Senior Gym Team.

As for the future, if we don't hear of Jilda's touring abroad as a famous concert pianist, we'll be disappointed; but then we're sure of her success, home or abroad.

MARGARET SANT AMBROGIO

"MARGE"

"For pity's sake!"

Marge is one of the busiest girls in high school, almost all of her spare time being taken up by some school activity. She does the work given her by various organizations in a cheerful and uncomplaining manner.

She is a member of that select group, the Girl Reserves, and also of the Girls' Senior Gym Team; she is a valuable member of both the B. H. S. Band and the Orchestra.

Marge loves her reading so much that she intends to be a librarian.

MALCOLM SAVAGE

"MAL"

"Aw, nertz!"

South Side's loss, our gain. That's what happened when Mal came to our school a year ago and brought his wise-cracks and fun with him. His brown, curly locks, blue eyes, and bright smile are the envy and admiration of his classmates. Why, English class wouldn't be English class without Mal's entertainment to furnish interest.

Mal plays basketball and is a member of the Chemistry Club. He is interested in hockey and baseball, too.

University of Pennsylvania will be Mal's future destination to study medicine. Don't forget—Doctor Savage hereafter. Not bad, eh!

FRANK SCHUMELL

"SCHANG"

"Is that so?"

Frank Schumell has been the class hero since he first entered high school athletics. He has always been a three letter man and a star on every team with which he played. He was football captain twice and basketball captain once, and was all state man during every season that he played football.

He has also been active off the athletic field. He was our first class president, president of the Athletic Association, and he has won a number of prizes for selling tickets to the annual school benefit performances.

We are sure that he is choosing the right vocation in physical education.

WALLACE W. SHAPIRO

"WALLY"

"Sling it easy!"

All those who read this be warned and watch out for Wally. Through the intricate machinery which all editors command we have learned that he is a member of a secret society called the "Silent Six." Since all machines have their limitations, we don't know whether the "Silent Six" consists of Nihilists, anarchists, or racketeers, but—watch out for Wally!

His school organizations are the Dramatic and Chemistry Clubs. He was a Student Prints reporter in his sophomore year.

His favorite sports are baseball, swimming, and boxing, and he is interested in radio.

He will study law at New Jersey Law School.

ANNA SHERIDAN

"ANN"

"'Struth"

Ann is a wee bonnie Scotch lassie. She joined us in the fall of 1931, having traveled all the way from Scotland just to be with us.

Since her arrival in Bloomfield, Ann has joined the Girl Reserves, and we feel quite proud to have a member from so far away.

Ann seems to like our school here, and she certainly has fitted in well. It didn't take her long to get acquainted. She is always happy and carefree.

Ann is going to join the ranks of teachers when she gets through several years of higher education.

WAYNE SMITH

"SMITTY"

"Horse Collar!"

Smitty believes in preparedness. He is one of the fellows whom Dix Crosby has sent to the Citizens' Military Training Camp for the last two summers, and he wants to go again this year.

His favorite sports are football and basketball. His hobbies are swimming, reading, and dancing. He is interested in radio also, and hopes to invent a television machine.

Out of school Smitty belongs to the De Molay and Semper Amici Clubs.

He will study law, but his college has not yet been selected.

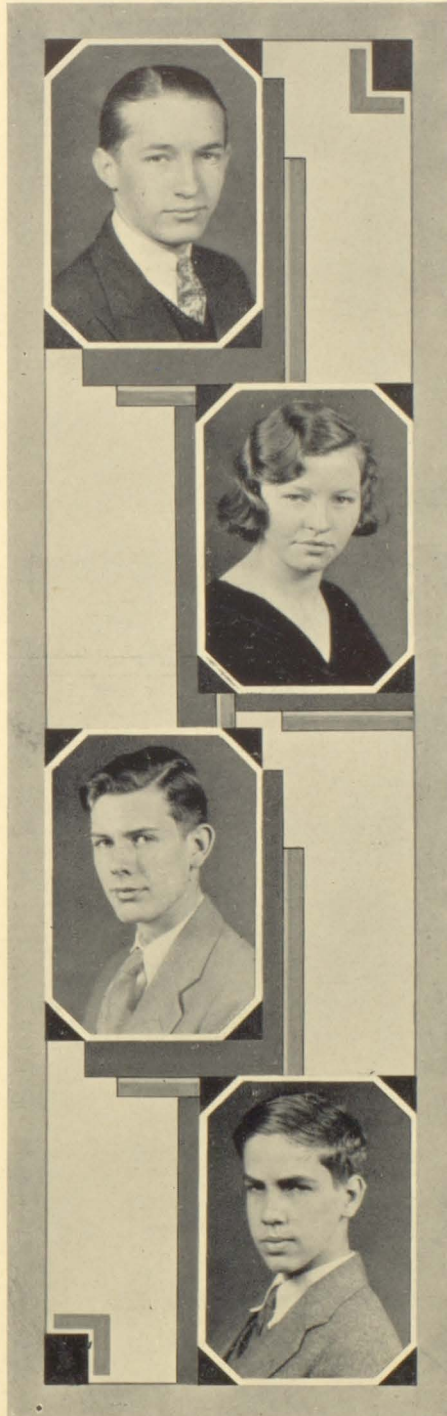

BENJAMIN SMITH

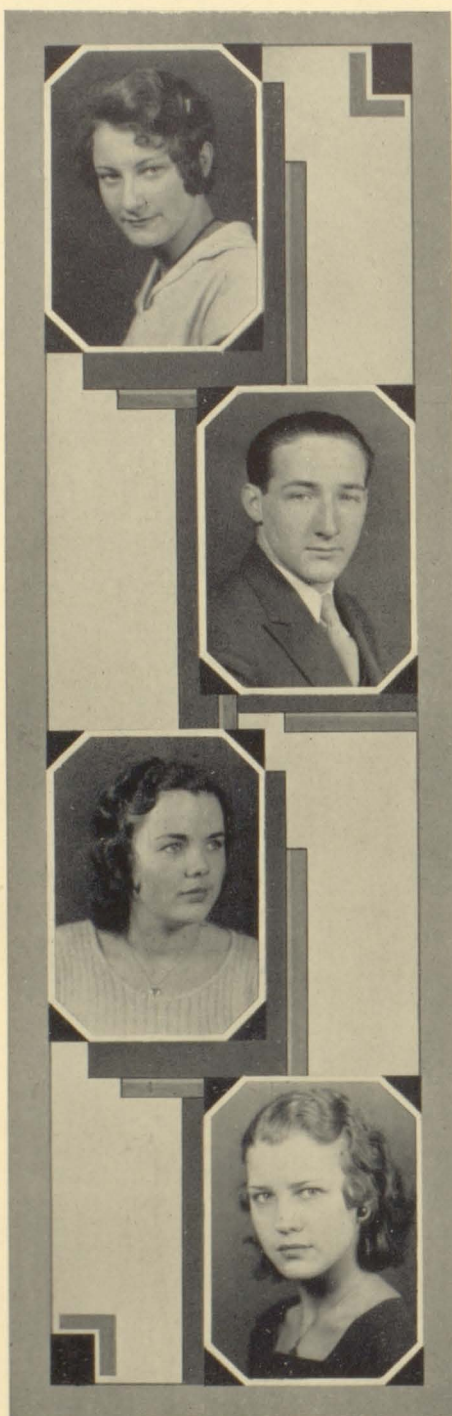

"BENNIE"

Good things come in small packages. On that you'll agree when you know Bennie. (His height is only five feet, eight and a half.) But his brains aren't small; he handles complicated problems and experiments with utmost ease. Another thing, he always has his homework done, and that's "somepin'."

Bennie is a boy scout, and has done outstanding scout work. He belongs to the German and Sphinx Clubs.

Either Yale or Newark College of Engineering will be in luck to enroll Bennie as a student, for he has the true making of a successful electrical engineer.

EDITH SMITH

"SMITTY"
"Eek!"

Smitty—the girl with the wicked haircomb! And is she unusual! If you don't think so, just watch her relish baked beans and orange juice all in one.

Her favorite study, we know, is Spanish; at least that's what her friends tell us—but don't ask why. Smitty is a member of the Spanish and Commercial Clubs.

After graduation, Smitty intends to join the long line of unemployed. Say—it ain't so, Edith, it can't be.

GERALD SOMERS

"JERRY"

Jerry likes to make noise, and he does it plenty. He is a happy-go-lucky sort of a chap who never has a dull time. Gerald has an eye for pretty girls, and doesn't lose time in getting acquainted.

When asked what his hobby was, he confessed it was breaking test tubes in the lab. We hope Mr. Walrath does not read this. Jerry belongs to the Chemistry, Commercial, and Spanish Clubs.

Can you guess his favorite song? That's right, it is "Minnie the Moocher." Jerry is undecided as to his future career, but he should get along anywhere with his sunny disposition.

FRANCES DIMMICK

"FANNY"
"Horses"

Introducing Fannie, one of the B. H. S. girls of true calibre. She has been welcome into many B. H. S. groups because of her wonderful personality and friendliness, the two magic gifts of success!

Fanny belongs to the Spanish Club and the Commercial Club.

Her favorite sports and enjoyments are dancing, swimming and skating.

As a future vocation Fanny has decided on secretarial work. As stated before, with her gifts of magic it is almost impossible for her to be a failure.

KATHERINE E. SPERRY

"KAY"
"Really!"

Katherine is one of those versatile persons who can do more than one thing at a time, or at least she seems to be able to, evenings. That is every evening except Monday, for banks are open Monday nights. We all wonder how Katherine has gotten her homework done for the last two years.

"Kay" is quite an athlete. Among the sports which interest her are swimming, tennis, golf, horseback riding, and reading. Yes, reading is a sport when more than one person participates. The Senior Gym Team is honored by "Kay's" presence.

She is a member of the Chemistry Club, Girl Reserves, and the Latin Club.

RUTH STANSFIELD

"RONNY"

"Let's go—huh?"

Ronny is one of the most versatile members of our class. One might think by glancing at her record that she devoted every minute of her time to studying, but that is far from true.

In fact, Ruth is treasurer of the Math Club, vice-president of the Girl Reserves, secretary of the French Club, and a member of the Chemistry and Latin Clubs.

Ruth captained the Senior girls' championship basketball team and was a member of the Senior Gym Team.

We know that the "Student Prints" will miss its capable circulation manager when Ruth graduates.

She likes swimming, dancing, horseback riding, and practically every outdoor sport.

JOHN STRAZZA

"BUD"

"How you was?"

Johnny is one of the musically inclined members of our class. He fairly eats, drinks, and sleeps music. He handled the drums in Symphony Orchestra and in the Band for four years. Besides, as assistant leader of Joe Bailey's Croonaders he takes care of the drums and traps. Bud belongs to the Hi-Y and Chemistry Clubs and was in the Senior Play. He is going to be a surgeon, and expects, after a pre-medical course at Yale, to enter Johns Hopkins.

MARIAN STEBBINS

"STEBBIE"

Our vice-president is the class athlete. Besides being captain of the Gym team, Stebbie plays basketball and baseball.

Marian also devotes a great deal of her time to the Girl Reserves and Chemistry Club, of which she is president. The French Club also claims her attention.

Stebbie likes practically every sport, especially ice-skating. Another one of her hobbies is driving a car.

Marian is undecided as to what she will do after graduation. We think she has a secret ambition to go back to Iowa where she formerly lived. Are we right?

GERTRUDE STROM

"GERTIE"

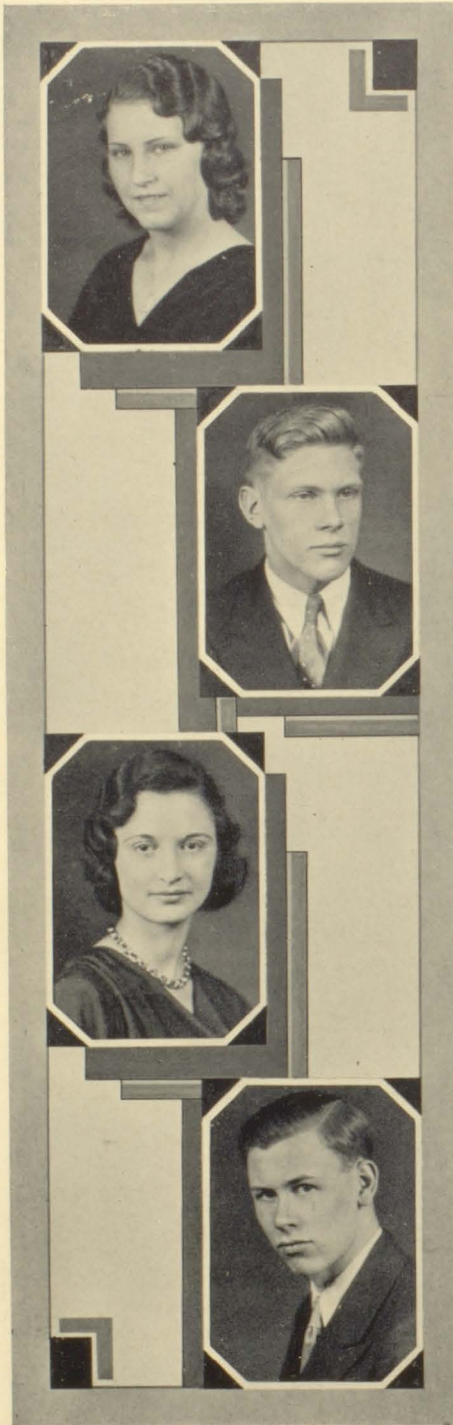

"Heck!"

My, what a little girl "Gertie" is! She must be almost the smallest girl in the class. That doesn't hinder her a bit, though. Just take a look at the activities "Gertie" undertakes — Orchestra, Glee Club, Latin Club, and French Club, not to mention the Chemistry Club and the Junior Gym Team. Now try and say that smallness is a handicap.

These aren't the only things that take up "Gertie's" time. Swimming, dancing, travelling, music, and art come in for their share.

Some college is slated to have Gertrude's attendance for four years. It is not yet definitely decided, but it may be New Jersey College for Women.

MARIE STUART

"BILLIE"

"Aw-gowan"

Here is another Commercial and Spanish Club member. "Billie" is going to do office work, and we predict a brilliant career for her.

Her one big interest seems to be baseball—in another school. Sounds interesting, to say the least. Horseback riding and swimming are also objects of her interest and attention.

"Billie" is the type of girl one likes to have around. She is always good-natured and seems to have no particular worries. If she has, they are all hidden behind a nice smile. She is the kind that makes one feel happy.

IRVING TRIMMER

"TRIMMER"

Everyone thought that Irving took the part of the guard in "First Night" unusually well. It really wasn't hard for him at all, because he had already become accustomed to that office, having been a member of the National Guard.

In fact, Irving is really a "National" fellow. After school he slaves (can you imagine him slaving?) in the "National" Grocery store.

Irving belongs to the Chemistry Club. He hasn't yet decided what he will do after graduation, but if there is still a war in China, Irving will be there!

FLORENCE VAN COTT

"FLO"

Flo likes to have a good time. Anyone could see that by just looking at her. Her eyes always seem to have a twinkle in them.

She doesn't belong to any clubs in school, but she makes up for that outside of school. She belongs to a number of organizations.

She likes to dance, play bridge, and swim. The movies are also one of her pastimes.

Talk about being accomplished! Flo has us all beat. She plays the Hawaiian guitar. How's that?

Interior decorating seems to be Flo's goal. The Newark School of Fine and Industrial Arts is her choice of school.

HERVEY VASSAR

"BUD"

"Hi ya, kid"

Always willing to have fun and to help, Hervey is an easy fellow to get along with. He is a star track man and has been on the team several years. He was on the relay team which covered itself with glory in the Penn relays.

Bud is a member of Chemistry and Math Clubs and is interested in motor boats, swimming and sports. He was an end on the Rangers' football team. He confesses his weakness is blondes.

Hervey is not decided as to what college he is going to attend, but will further his education before entering the race for jobs.

HOWARD WALTER

"HOWIE"

"Aw, take a powder!"

Have you ever heard Howie tickle those piano keys in sliding syncopation? Well, you've missed a lot if you haven't, for he surely has a "mean style" which adds to the fame of Joe Bailey's Croonaders.

In addition, Howie was voted the most artistic boy in the class, and we are indebted to him for many of the illustrations of this book.

With Howie's zeal and good-nature a great future is predicted for him.

He plans to attend Newark Public School of Fine Arts, but then, on second thought, he isn't certain. Wherever it is, though, doesn't matter, but we do foresee in him a world-known commercial artist—maybe an art editor of "College Humor," or even "Ballyhoo."

VIRGINIA WALSH

"GIN"

"Gee, you're a brighty!"

Presenting Virginia Walsh, one of the most popular girls in our class. In "First Night" she had the part of Irene, the chorus girl; she handled her part in grand style, and is furthering her theatrical ability with the Dramatic Club.

She also belongs to the Commercial Club. She is a very good dancer and enjoys swimming and skating. Her favorite song is "Oh What a Thrill." It must also be the song of all who meet her.

She intends to become a secretary, and is going to Gibbs' College. We do not think she will find it hard to secure a position.

JOHN W. WATHEY, Jr.

"JACK"

"Whoop-ee-doo!"

Enter the basketball player! After school hours school teams and the First Church team boast of Jack's membership. Besides basketball, swimming and football claim his interest.

The Hi-Y and Chemistry Club take up some of Jack's time. Last summer he made two trips to South America.

A pleasant nature and a nice smile help to make Jack as popular as he is.

Engineering is his aim, but he has not yet decided upon any special college. However, we wish you the best of luck, Jack.

LILLIAN WEBBER

"LIL"

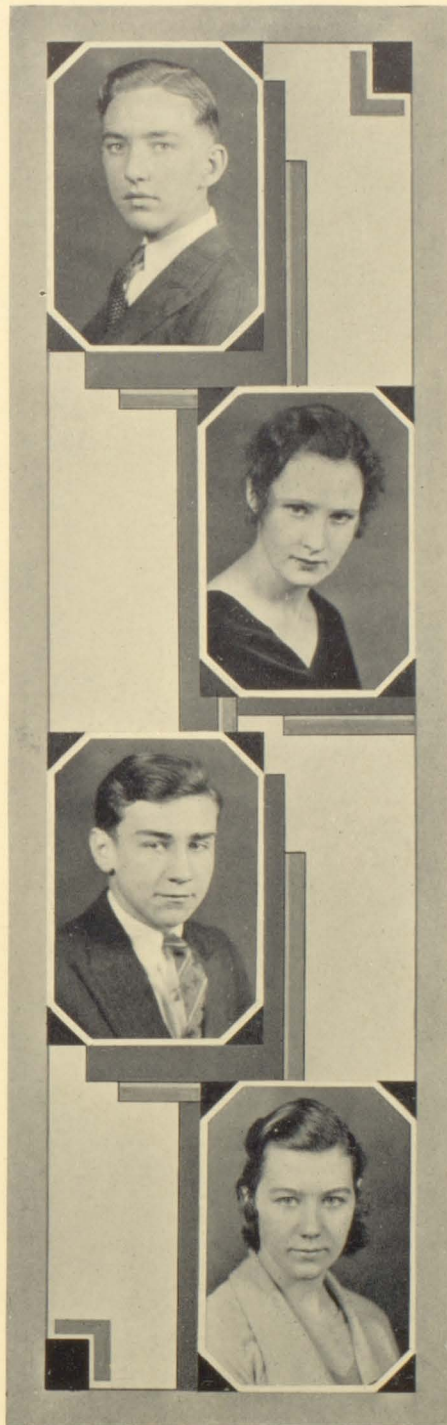

"Oh, Ye-ah!"

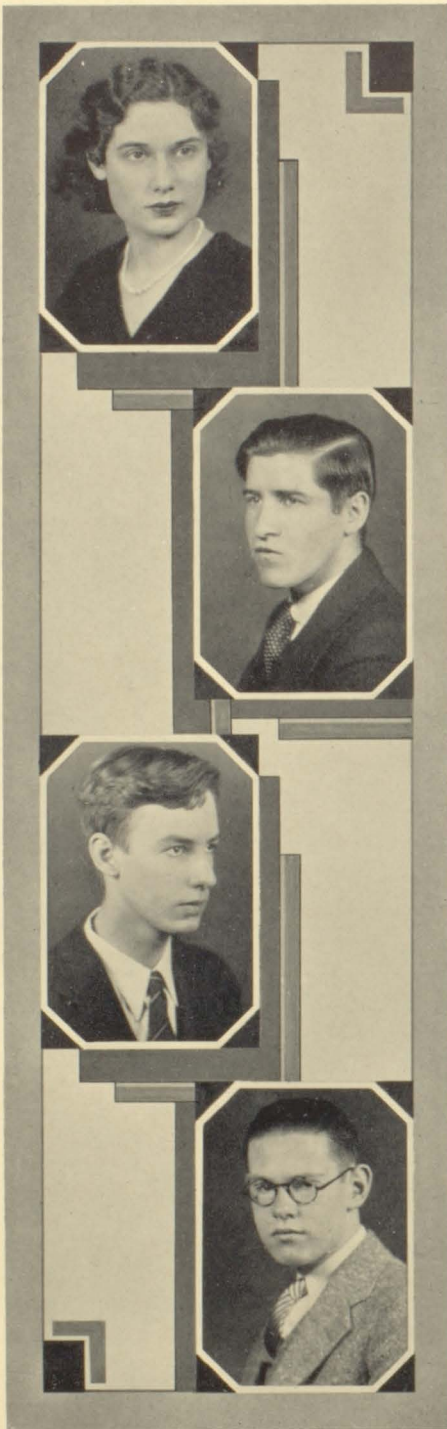

Another quiet girl, but nevertheless a talented one. Lillian is going to attend the Newark School of Industrial Art, where she will specialize in Interior Decorating.

She is a member of the Spanish and Commercial Clubs, and also of the Girl Reserves.

Lillian loves to draw. Her other pastimes are dancing, swimming, and various sports.

We wish you luck as an Interior Decorator, Lillian.

LORETTA D. WEBER

"BOOTS"

"Now, Al, you know you like it"

Loretta has been a cheerleader for the last year and a half. That's the secret of our team's success. She played the part of Betty, the cigarette girl, in the Senior Play.

She belongs to the Sphinx, Dramatic, and Chemistry Clubs, and also has a place on the Senior Gym Team. In the line of sports she likes swimming, diving, golf, and tennis. Some of her other sports are Al, Joe, Jack, Ed, Lar—Pardon us!

Loretta intends to study costume designing at art school after graduation.

EDWARD WHEELAN

"JIMMIE"

Believe it or not, "Jimmie's" name is Edward. Not many people know it, but it's the truth.

"Jimmie" is Russ's side kick. Wherever one goes the other is sure to follow.

Besides belonging to the Hi-Y and Chemistry Club, "Jimmie" plays football, basketball, and is a member of the track team. He's no slacker at any one of them, either.

"Jimmie" believes in aiming high. His ambition is to take up aviation. He may go to Newark Airport to follow his inclinations.

We don't hear very much from "Jimmie," but he is always cheerful and good-natured. He's a good pal. Just ask Russ.

DAVID WILLIAMS

"DAVE"

"Have you done your Latin?"

Can Dave play the piano? What a foolish question. To appreciate Dave, who is rather quiet, one has only to hear him play one piece. He certainly is good!

He is a member of the Latin and Glee Clubs.

David's hobbies are swimming and playing the piano. Besides being musically gifted, Dave likes Latin. In fact he plans to go to the Montclair Teachers' College next fall, where he will prepare to be a Latin teacher.

Good luck, Dave!

JOSEPH WILSON

"JOE"

"Hold 'em, Yale!"

Even though Joe is another of those who hail from the "Styx," that is, Brookdale, we realize that he is one of the most congenial members in our class. We know when he's around by his noise and bright smile. All in all, he is a good sport.

He is a member of the Hi-Y, Debating, and Glee Clubs.

After graduation, Joe will honor Montclair State Teachers' College with his presence, and then—who knows—maybe a future Mr. Willits or even Mr. Poole!

ROBERT WOODBURN

"BOB"

"Hi, Newton, how be ye?"

Introducing Bob Woodburn, one of our quiet boys. Bob is of the bashful type, and he likes to be alone with his violin.

Lest we forget, Bob formerly went to New Brunswick Junior High School and came to B. H. S. to complete his high school training.

His favorite pastimes are playing in the B. H. S. orchestra, and inventing.

Bob has informed us that he wants to be an electrical engineer, and he's going to Tufts College for his training.

DANA WOODWARD

"DANA"

"So what?"

Dana is tall, dark, and handsome—and does he like his blondes? Well, seeing is believing.

He is fond of music, and has been the Efficiency Officer for the Band for four years. At the same time he was vice-president of the Orchestra. That's a record for you. He is a member of the Glee, Debating, and Chemistry Clubs, too. Dana spends his spare time in reading, swimming, and other sports.

Dana's future vocation is unknown, but he will probably attend some college in the fall.

GLADYS YEARENCE

"GLAD"

"You're not so hot yourself."

Gladys is the neatest girl in the class. You will all agree that neatness is a virtue when you look at Gladys.

The Spanish and Commercial Clubs are honored by her membership. She likes swimming, dancing, and playing golf.

Gladys is going to take up secretarial work, at which she will be a great success if personality plays a part.

DELANEY YOUNG

"DELANEY"

Ambition personified! That's Delaney Young. He is going either to Columbia or Cornell to study to be a surgeon. He's sure to make a success of it, too. When Delaney sets out to do a thing it gets done.

When he isn't working in the much renowned drug store jerking sodas, Delaney is busy with basketball, football, and tennis. Other activities keep him busy while he is in school. The Latin, Chemistry, and Math Clubs are just a few of his interests. He is also active in the Student Council and Junior Red Cross.

Delaney has a very unusual hobby—collecting blue slips for the four years of high school. Maybe he is absent just to get a blue slip.

PETER YURKOVSKY

"PETE"

"Horsefeathers"

Pete has a way of escaping publicity. This is certainly a very good way of dodging the staff of the "Salute," especially as they are out to get everything on you they possibly can. However, Pete's past history is favorable, revealing him as a member of the Commercial and German Clubs.

He likes football and golf, and his favorite hobby is collecting all kinds of stones. Perhaps the fact that he comes from Cedar Grove explains this.

Pete is bound for Drake's, where he intends to study along the commercial line.

LILLIAN ZBIKOWSKI

"ZIBBY"

"Good gravy!"

Blonde, curly locks, blue eyes, a sweet smile, a smooth dancer, and in all a pretty miss—that's Zibby.

You will always find Zibby in the happy company of either Miggs or Flip. She is popular and active in the commercial group especially, and she seems to be able to pick up 90's without any effort. An athlete too, is Zibby, who shines on the Senior Gym Team. She is president of the Spanish Club, vice-president of the Commercial Club, and a member of the Student Council.

Zibby expects to be somebody's private secretary, and oh! the lucky boss who employs her!

DORIS HUSSEY

Doris Hussey, who entered Bloomfield High School from Schenectady High School is graduating with our class.

Note of Thanks

The Board of The Salute, ignorant of the ways and means of publishing, extends its sincere thanks to Miss Anne M. Smith, without whose experience and patient help, this book would have been well-nigh impossible.

Class Poem

Gee! It looks easy from the audience
On graduation night
To go up and get our sheepskins,
But we get an awful fright.
Don't get us wrong, it's not the kind
We get from seeing ghosts,
But it's from the realization
We're to take our worldly posts.
You never really realize
Just what your school's done
Until you get your sheepskin,
The mark of victory won.
School's brought us lots of friends,
And given hours of fun.
It's given us a groundwork
In the tasks that must be done.
And now we've got to leave it,
We've taken all our share,
We hope it's a little better,
For having had us there.

JACK ELLIS.

Class Song

To tune of "Starlight"

JOE BAILEY AND JACK ELLIS

Bloomfield High, our time has come at last,
Just like sons and daughters of the past.
And so here tonight we take our leave
With an outlook bright we say adieu.

CHORUS:

School days, school days, now we're through with school days,
But they mean a lot to us.
Teachers, classmates, were all helpmates
In the home of Red and Gray.
When we think of leaving you
We can't help but sigh,
For you've given memories
That will never die.
So Bloomfield High School, Our school,
E'en though we now must go,
You will always have our hearts.

Out into the wide world we must go
It is waiting there for us just so,
We must do our bit to prove our stuff,
Show that we have grit to strive to win.

Class History

OUR four years of sojourn in Bloomfield High School have elapsed, and now that we are leaving our dear old Alma Mater, we look back upon these four years with a feeling of regret.

Our first class meeting was held in the early part of September, 1928. Frank Schumell was elected the first president. The other officers chosen were Ada Daniel, vice-president; Robert Perrine, secretary; John Reid, treasurer. The class selected Miss Marion Terry as faculty adviser.

Our first class dance took place the following January and was a decided success financially as well as socially. During March of our Freshman year we held a most profitable candy sale.

In our Sophomore year, 1929-30, Ada Daniel became president; Naoma Dalzell, vice-president; Joseph Moore, secretary; and Albert Marsh, treasurer. It was in February, 1930, that we held our most successful dance. This event brought in a net profit of $42.50.

Joseph Carson was elected president; Marian Stebbins, vice-president; Eleanor McCloud, secretary; and Robert Perrine, treasurer in September, 1930, the beginning of our Junior year. With the exception of Robert Perrine, who was replaced in 1931 by Thomas English as treasurer, the same officers continued to serve throughout the Senior year.

In order to increase the funds available for the Junior Prom, we cooperated with the class of February, '32, in staging a theatre party at the Royal, the picture shown being "Old English", starring George Arliss.

Our Prom, called the most successful ever presented in Bloomfield High School, was held on December 26, 1930. The decorations were in blue and gold, and palms surrounded the orchestra and seats. Miss Smith and Miss Terry acted as chaperones. Our guests included Superintendent and Mrs. Stover, Mr. and Mrs. Haupin, and Mr. and Mrs. Salisbury.

Our class, together with the class of February, 1932, was honored by being the first class to have rings with the school seal.

Another theatre party held on October 19 and 20, 1931, preceded the Senior Play. George Arliss was again selected as the attraction, this time in "Alexander Hamilton."

On December 18 and 19, 1931, we presented our Senior Play, "First Night." This play was exceptionally successful for one produced in a period of depression. The receipts from the sale of tickets amounted to $1,216, and the net profit was $707.

About sixty members of the class enjoyed a splendid trip to Washington, D. C., from April 21 through 23 in our Senior "A" year.

The date for Class Night is June 24 and Commencement June 27.

Junior Prom

DECEMBER twenty-sixth, 1930, was more than just the day after Christmas to the members of the Class of June 1932, as well as to a large number of other people. It meant the Junior Prom, one event every freshman and sophomore looks forward to.

In cooperation with the Junior A Class, our class made a great success of this occasion.

The boys' gym looked very attractive with its blue and gold decorations. The Christmas note was added by ropes of evergreens. The whole atmosphere was very pleasant and for further entertainment a good horse act was put on by a company from New York.

The Prom Committee consisted of the following:

Junior A

HUGH HEALY
JEAN THOMAS
FRANK BELDOWSKI
FRANCES BLANKLEY
MAY PIERSON
EMAGENE EARLE

Junior B

JOSEPH CARSON
ELEANOR MCCLOUD

Washington Trip

BRIGHT and early Thursday morning, April 21, 1932, sixty-two Seniors met in front of the high school to leave on the annual trip to Washington. Buses conducted the group to Elizabeth where it embarked on a special car of the B. & O. for the five hour journey to the capital. The weather was perfect for the three days of the trip and consequently a wonderful time was had by all. Upon their arrival in Washington, the Seniors were taken on a tour of the city in special buses. It was a very interesting tour, taking in all of the famous historical buildings, statues, etc. Some of the more notable places visited were the Lincoln Memorial, The Arlington Cemetery and the Washington Monument. Several of the party walked up the Monument, much to their later regret.

After dinner at the Hotel Cairo, where the group stayed, a visit was made to the Congressional Library. What happened in the hotel after this visit is best kept out of these stately pages.

The next morning, the Seniors made another tour of the city, this time covering all that had been missed on the previous trip. The Bureau of Engraving and Printing, the Pan-American Building, The United States Capitol, and the White House were all graced by the presence of the mighty B. H. S. Seniors. At the White House Mrs. Hoover granted a short interview and shook hands with each member of the group.

In the afternoon a beautiful boat trip was made up the Potomac where the party visited Mount Vernon. The class picture, taken in front of Mount Vernon, turned out exceptionally well. When half an hour had been spent in going through all the places in this historic spot, the Seniors again boarded the boat for the return trip at the close of a perfect day.

The dance at the hotel that night was a success and the Seniors retired to a much quieter atmosphere than that of the night before. Whether this was due to fatigue or outside influence is hard to ascertain.

The next morning the Seniors again boarded buses, this time to make a visit to Annapolis and the Naval Academy. A very impressive drill by the Middies was viewed and a tour of the campus of the Academy provided much pleasure for the crowd.

After lunch at the hotel, the party was free to do as it pleased until four o'clock when buses took it to the train for the return trip to Bloomfield. It was a tired but happy group of Seniors that arrived home late that night. It was an experience that not one of the group would have missed for fame, fortune, glory, or honor.

First Night

It was in the lobby of an exclusive New York theatre. A middle-aged gentleman in evening dress entered the telephone booth, picked up the receiver to answer the call.

"Hello, hello!" There was no answer. A look of bewilderment crossed his face. He clicked the receiver impatiently. On the opposite side of the room, a door opened silently. A hand with a gun aimed at the booth. Then, suddenly,—the frenzied scream of the cigarette girl, a loud shot, and the shattering of glass crashed the stillness. Chance played a cruel trick when it led Stanley Reid, alias Tom English, upon the scene at that moment. For 'twas then, Bartlett Harvey staggered and fell at Reid's feet, uttering those fatal, dying words, "Reid, you shot me." An inexorable coincidence which proved disastrous. For from that time on, action followed unfavorably against Reid. Crowds rushed in, women screamed and fainted, detectives shouted commands left and right, while above it all the hysterical cry of the innocent man predominated. Upon all this uproar the curtain suddenly closed.

To the unusual audience this was just another form of entertainment offered to them by their authorities to lighten the tedium of the dark prison days. But to Joan Reid, played by Naoma Dalzell, who was also author and heroine of the play, it meant everything. With the assistance of her fiance, Bob Martin, acted by Newell Rand, she was presenting this reenactment of the Harvey murder in Sing Sing prison as a last attempt to save the life of her brother, who, within twenty-four hours, would be executed for that same murder.

"He is just a boy,—condemned to die for a murder he never committed!—and all I ask of you, Governor, is twenty minutes to prove to you he is innocent!" That was her heart-rending plea to Governor Smith, played by Fred Lavenburg, who, having been invited to attend the performance, had protested the enactment of this nature. But such an ardent request to permit her to go on with the show, not even Governor Smith could resist granting and the play went on.

The next two acts unfolded many facts about the characters involved or connected in the actions of the murdered banker. Inspector Owens, the shrewd detective, otherwise John Cleary, has his suspicions. One of them was the "Duke" a slick gentleman racketeer played by Joe Carson, whose faultless alibi was closely checked up. Many other characters, who had behaved suspiciously concerning the events of the crime, were carefully cross-examined. Referring especially to Irene Barnes, the vamping chorus girl, and her old father, Barnes—the latter, no other than Bert Banks, finally brought to light many startling revelations about the Duke and also Kerr, the hard-boiled taxi-driver, alias Hurley Jaeger, who had constantly hounded the old man to keep him from "spilling the beans." The confession of Hicks, the bankteller, played by Stanley Kohler, seemed to top off the evidence against the Duke.

The real Duke, personified by Irving Trimmer, who was a prisoner in Sing Sing on a forgery charge, had been assigned to usher during this performance in order to observe his reaction toward the new evidence presented. The result was that everybody was satisfied when he made his forced confession; the sister, who saved her brother from the chair, the Governor who was happy to halt this execution of an innocent man, and the audience which enjoyed a good thriller replete with tense moments and at the same time providing many a comic situation, thus giving a pleasant relief to the show. In all, this Dix Crosby production was a financial as well as social success.

Class Prophecy

THE other day, I was in the engineering firm of Judd & Bailey. When I entered the main office, and asked Ruth Hendey, the information girl, whether or not Joe and Jack were in, she told me that they were in conference with Ken Blauvelt, the advertising man and Lillian Beecher, a commercial artist. While waiting, I noticed that the office was being redecorated, and, over by the window Lillian Weber was giving Joseph Hahn, Dana Woodward, and Daniel Lynch instructions about some painting that was to be done. While she was talking to them, James Gleason and Ben Smith came up to her and asked what type of lights were desired. Presently, a door opened and Hervey Vassar, dressed like a bellhop, came out and told me that Joe and Jack would see me. I went into their private offices. There I saw Ruth Amidon and Catherine McNamara sitting on their employers' laps, taking dictation. I told them how the bridge that Gorsline and Nicosia built for me had washed away, and asked them to send a couple of engineers to look the site over. They said they'd send Fred Davis, Bob McCloud, and Norman Hill. Well, we talked for a while, and then decided to go to lunch. On the way out, we were greeted by their accountant, Walter Binowec, May Pierson, the telephone girl, and Stanley Kohler, the janitor. We went to the ground floor in an elevator operated by John Downey. On the main floor, we saw Jack Wathey in the guise of starter. On the building directory several familiar names appeared; they were Thomas English, Attorney, P. Holland, M. D., James Richardson, Painless Extractions, and Lorna Peterkin, Textile Designer. At the top of the directory was the legend Anderson Bldg., Home of Snappy Speedboats. As we went out the door, an ambulance, driven by Hurley Jaeger dashed by. The nurse in it was Kathleen Morris. Immediately following the ambulance was a red car bearing the lettering, W. Shapiro, Lawyer. Joe said that the ambulance was from Bellevue Hospital where Perry Miller, Joe Carson, and Delaney Young are surgeons, Henry Albinson and Joseph O'Reilly are M. D.'s, and Ruth Stansfield, Alice Bagley, Katherine Sperry, and Alberta Ogorevc are nurses. He also said that Julius Garriga was the chief chemist. As we proceeded down the street, we saw Jerry Somers and Ed. Ogorevc grinding a hand organ while Bill Dusche held the chain of a dancing bear. A little further on, we had an excellent view of Gerard Everall selling apples. While Jack was telling me how Everall had lost his fortune in oil, a dreadful din hit our ears. Investigation showed us that it was caused by a Salvation Army group, made up of Charlotte Brown and Howard Allen, who were industriously tooting their horns while Olive Miller, Donna Pinkham, and Irving Trimmer sang "Drop A Penny on the Drum." On we walked, passing stores and restaurants. In one "Childs", we saw Amelia Eastes and Edith Law, flapping flapjacks. Finally, we turned into a doorway between John Moglia's Soda Emporium and Rand's Sporting Goods Store. And whom should we meet there but LeRoy Dyal, now a big bug in the potato industry.

* * * * *

Well, we went up the stairs into Sol Block's Golden Gate Cabaret. When we went in, Gladys Pemberthy, the hostess, showed us to our table. After a short wait, John Reid, dressed like a waiter, shuffled up and took our order. The orchestra struck up. Much to our surprise, Howard Walter was playing the piano, Bob Woodburn the fiddle, and John Strazza, the drums. The orchestra was led by Johnnie Leiss, master of ceremonies par excellence. While the orchestra was playing, a mixed chorus skipped out. It was made up of four couples; they were Bill Frick, Loretta Weber, Helen Moora, Bob O'Mara, Helen Greenwood, Edmund Beldowski, Elsie McRae, and John Harrison. After the chorus had danced, John Cleary, now known as Timmy the Golden Gate Troubadour sang. Because the afternoon was hot, we decided to take a ride in the 5th Ave. bus. We had hardly got comfortably seated on the roof when Bob Hopper came up to collect our fares. As the bus sped up Riverside Drive, we caught a glimpse of Edith Conklin and Edythe Kolter getting into a limousine. Rumor has it that they married Jimmie Wheelan and Russ Fischer, the Cruller kings. We got off at Grant's Tomb, and because I had never seen it, we went in. While I was looking at some flags in a glass case, I caught the reflection of a familiar looking face in the glass. Sure enough, there was George Earle, dressed like a guide, explaining the historical background of the flags to several rural looking folks, some of whom strangely resembled Edith Smith, Harry McNey, and Dot Peterson. It was getting late, and since Ray and I were going to Albany on the night boat, we bid farewell to Joe and Jack. Ray went to get the tickets. He told me that they were sold to him by Burton Cash, who has not changed a bit but is now totally bald. We gave our tickets to Charles Blunt at the gangplank, and, under the careful scrutiny of Eric Lavery, the dock cop, we went aboard. Once on board, we immediately went to our state room. There we found Ovid Rizzolo laying fresh bed linen. We chased him out and lay down to get some sleep, but sleep would not come. Just outside our door a hot argument was in progress. Investigation showed that Doris Fielding, (now Mrs. Pieper), was scolding Bob Pieper because he tried to go to bed with his shoes on. During the night one of us became sick and rang for the ship's doctor. Much to our surprise, he was answered by Malcolm Savage, accompanied by Naoma Dalzell, in a nurse's outfit. Morning found us in the dining saloon. We had a good breakfast, well served by Helen Dwyer. Shortly, the boat docked at Albany, and we went ashore. Our first stop was Schumell's Tonsorial parlor. I was shaved by Tommie Adams, manicured by Mildred Ellor, and paid my check to Ruth Bogart. Next, we went to the engineering firm of Draper, Mooney, and Perrine. Having finished our business with them, we hurried to the airport to catch the Albany-New York City plane. A large building at one side of the field attracted our attention. Inquiry proved to us that it was the Aero Engineering plant of Orrin MacMurray, and that Warren King and Howard Howarth designed planes there; that Marie Allen was Mac's personal manager and Gladys Yearance was his private secretary. We boarded the plane and thanks to the skillful piloting of Gus Beeaff we had a very pleasant trip.

* * * * *

Last fall, I went on an inspection trip to Chicago. When I first arrived at the depot, Mel Michell carried my bags to the taxi. I made the Blackstone Hotel my headquarters. Angelo Recenello is desk clerk there. In the morning, I went to visit the 7th Ave. school. To my surprise, I found Joe Wilson teaching History, Eva Koehnlein, English, and David Williams, Hebrew. The principal was none other than Helen Arbuckle. From there I went to the office of the Chicago Tribune. I was welcomed by Josephine Niebergall, and shown through the plant by Ralph Olson. In the City room Lois Moore, Kathleen Bannister, Lillian Caprio, and Estelle Cohen were to be seen, all pounding typewriters. In the feature office I saw Evelyn Kratz, designing the dress pattern of the day, Virginia Walsh writing her "Advice to the Love-lorn" column, and Bill Fairweather drawing the daily cartoon. After my visit to the News office, I headed for the library. On the way, I saw some reminders of B. H. S. There was a sign, bearing the legend Smith, Lavenburg, and Richardson, Dentists. To pass such a group of schoolmates would have been nothing short of criminal, so I went in. Marion Black showed me in and much to my astonishment I found Lillian Zbikowski, Dot Livingston, and Mildred Fuess all in the garb of Dental Nurses. After a pleasant chat with them, I resumed my journey to the library. I found it a delightful place, expertly operated under the supervision of Margaret and Jilda St. Ambrogio. I returned to my hotel, to write a report of my observations, and inasmuch as I cannot write and think at the same time, it was necessary for me to hire a stenographer. I phoned the McNeely employment agency. Dick said that he had a bunch of unemployed stenogs there, and read me a list of names. Some of them were, Peg McGlynn, Emma Richter, Ruth Beech, and Gertrude Strom. I told him to send all of them up. He did, and he came too. What a party we had! The next day, I went to visit a court room. To my great surprise, I saw Harold Grissing being tried before Judge Croughan for kicking Ruth Eichorn in the shins while riding in a subway. The jury was made up of a motley crew. Some of them were Peter Yurkowski, David McNeely, Bert Banks, Ray Hoffman, Anne Sheridan, and Edna Ernst. That was Saturday. The following day, I got up early and went to the West Side M. E. Church. Alvan Rogers was the minister, the plate was passed to me by Art Everswick, and to my great surprise, I saw Jean Cameron, Betty King, and John O'Reilly in the choir. Rogers got up, but he did not preach; instead, he introduced Edith Phillips, who gave us a glowing description of her work as a medical missionary in the wilds of Hoboken. After church, I returned to the hotel to rest a little. That afternoon, I decided to take a stroll in the park. While I was sitting on a bench resting, Flora Karas and Eleanor McCloud walked by wheeling baby carriages. A little later, Carmine Lally strutted through dressed in the brass and blue of the police. I had my supper at Richenburg's Silver Skillet. My spaghetti was served to me by Jean Morrison and the table was cleared by Wayne Smith. The following Monday morning, I went out to make a general survey of the city. As I was walking down Michigan Boulevard, I saw Marian Stebbins leading a bevy of kindergarten kids across the street to the park, while Mike Drudy held up the traffic. A little further down the street, I saw a building bearing the sign, Armand de Rosset, Gorgeous Gowns. I went in to see how Archie was making out. He took me into a large room where Vito DeMai, Joe Cwirko and Bill Garrison were hemming dresses under the supervision of Florence Van Cott. Well, I guess that's about all I saw, excepting that when I went to catch my train for Fly Creek, I went in a taxi piloted by George Hutter, bought my ticket from Al Marsh, gave it to conductor Redfearn, and on the train, I saw Marie Stuart, Frances Dimmick, and Doris Hussey, now noted actresses.

Say, fellows, we've covered all but one of the class now; does anyone know what became of Jack Ellis?

Didn't you hear, the poor goop went crazy writing our class prophecy, and they had to take him out of circulation.

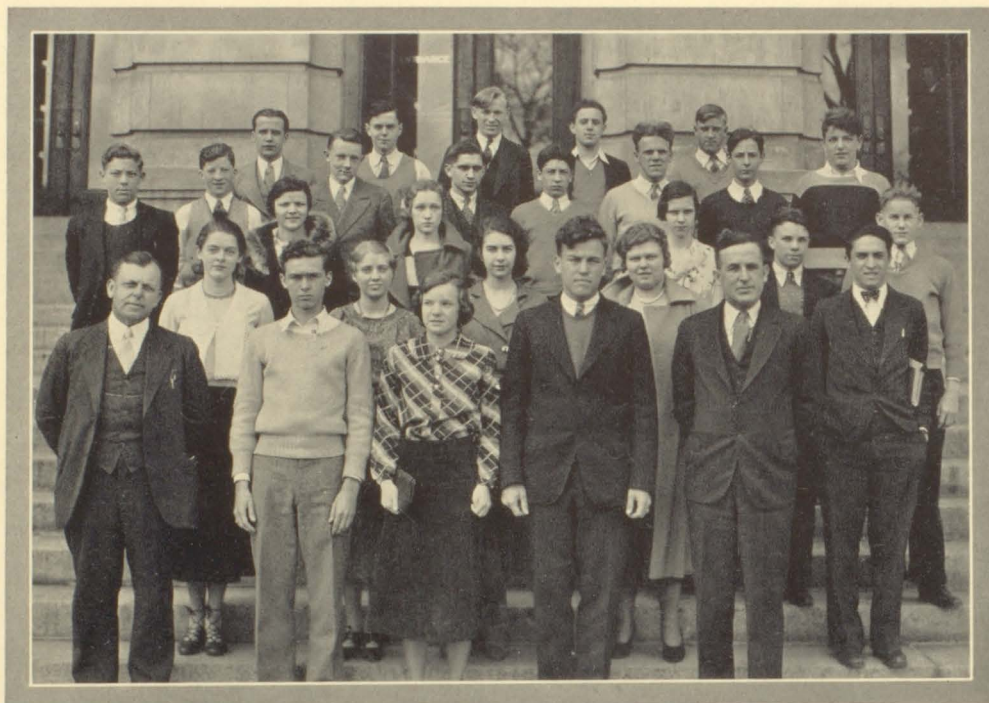

Student Council

OFFICERS

President	THOMAS ENGLISH
Vice President	WILLIAM FRICK
Secretary	BETTY PERRINE
Treasurer	DOROTHY HENDERSON

THE Student Council, composed of a representative from each homeroom, has done much this year for the improvement of the high school. It has secured a weekly column in the Newark News for B. H. S. activities; it has issued a high school handbook and started the sale of pennants and school pins. The Council obtains and sponsors all the assembly programs. The Junior Red Cross was organized through this body and at present a point system is being investigated which the Council soon hopes to put into effect. Through a resolution of the council that all clubs and classes should cooperate in keeping the cafeteria clean, much has been done toward improving the conditions in the lunch room.

The council has been fortunate in having the able guidance of Mr. Haupin and Mr. Ross, its advisers, during this year.

The Student Prints

BLOOMFIELD High's weekly newspaper began publication rather late last fall. For a while it was a question whether the paper would have sufficient funds to go on or not, but through the loyal support of both students and faculty the Student Prints pulled through and is now, getting on nicely, thank you.

Since the Student Prints is a valuable means of developing individual journalistic ability, and since it trains those who work for it to write with precision and accuracy, apart from its great value to the school as a whole, it is a fine thing to see that the students really appreciate the paper.

In March, several members of the staff attended the eighth annual convention of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association where the Student Prints bettered last year's record by climbing from third to second place in its class.

The annual April fool issue was a great success and it seems likely that the yearly Stewed Prince has become a school tradition.

Armand J. de Rosset, who is among the graduates, filled with great efficiency the office of editor-in-chief from September to February. That responsible position is now held in a very capable manner by Ruth B. Lewis of the 12B Class.

Besides Armand, members of the staff who are graduating are Ruth Stansfield, Helen Greenwood, Edythe Kolter, Edith Conklin, Gladys Pemberthy, and William Frick.

Orchestra

OFFICERS

Adviser	MISS ALBINSON
President	CHARLOTTE BROWN
Vice President	DANA WOODWARD
Secretary	ROBERT ROSEVEAR
Librarians	MATHEW SUMSKY, JOSEPH STIVALE

THE orchestra is a very vital part of the musical life of the school and its members are an enthusiastic, hard-working group of sincere music lovers.

Besides furnishing music regularly for our assembly programs, the orchestra participated in a concert with the Women's Club in November, in accompanying their chorus in the Nutcracker Suite by Tschaikowsky; two patriotic programs for scout rallies; graduations in January and June; opening the concert of the Dixie Jubilee Singers; the musical background for the New York Times Oratorical Contest; an evening of light popular and patriotic numbers for the soldiers at Millington; a very definite contribution to the National Music Week celebration.

We also have been privileged to have representation in the all-State orchestra and to enter one of our members in the Solo piano contest held in May at New Brunswick.

The Band

DURING the past year the B. H. S. band has been very active in civic and scholastic events. Many new members have been added increasing the membership to about forty. A few of these have come to us from Park School.

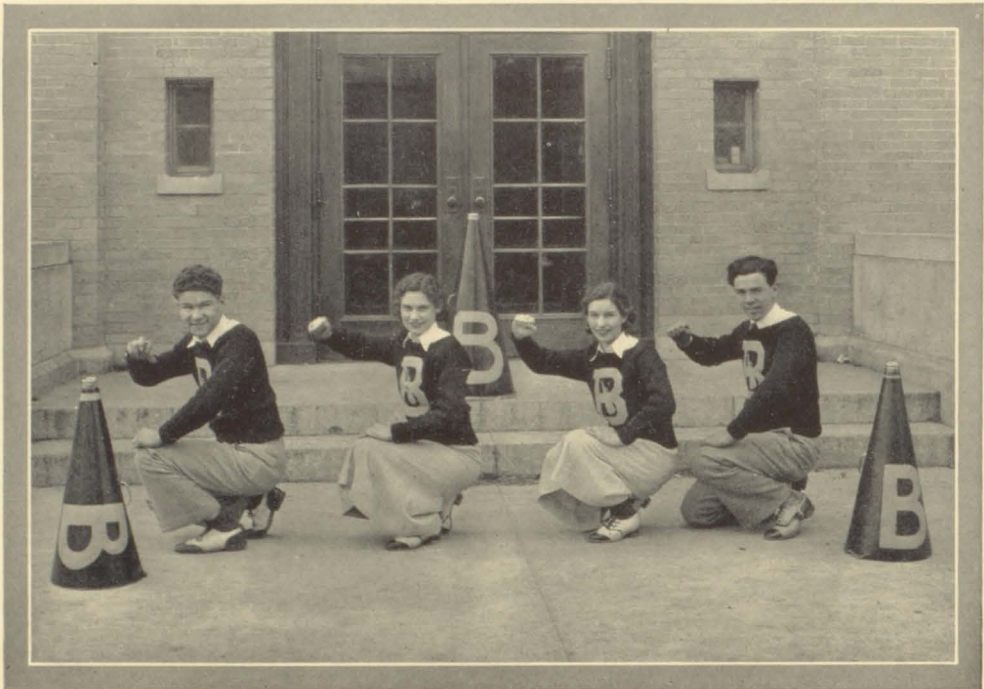

Mr. Jordan, our leader, who came to us from Illinois, has been very faithful and helpful in his work with us.

The band has played at all the football and basketball games, both at home and away, in town parades, and at the Bi-Centennial Celebration of Washington's birthday which was sponsored by the American Legion.

The Athletic Association has furnished uniforms and some instruments for the band and has assisted it financially.

The band offers the musical pupils of the school an opportunity to become members of a really active organization.

Secretary	DOROTHY HENDERSON
Treasurer	ELEANOR HENDERSON

THIS season a small but sincere and earnest group of girls have rehearsed weekly on Thursday, not only with preparation of material for definite programs as their objective, but the careful interpretation of good music with beauty of tone.

They were responsible for certain assembly programs; the Christmas pageant with its background of ancient carols; two graduation programs; an evening of choral music for the soldiers at Millington; and part of the music celebration for National Music week.

The social side of club life is not neglected as they enjoyed a Christmas party and one or two outdoor picnics.

The Hi-Y

OFFICERS

Adviser	MR. GRILL
President	JACK ELLIS
Vice President	JACK VAN ARSDALE
Secretary	WILLIAM FRICK
Treasurer	GILRAY ANDERSON

THE Hi-Y, conducted with the supervision of the Y. M. C. A., is a group of high school boys which meets every Thursday night in the cafeteria where they eat a meal together and afterwards have a discussion or listen to a speaker.

The club has been very active during the past school year. At the Hi-Y faculty dinner almost every man teacher was present. The next big event was the sending of delegates to Haddonfield for the state Y. M. C. A. conference. During the Christmas vacation the Annual Alumni Banquet was held. Almost ninety people attended this and the banquet was a complete success.

The biggest activity of the Hi-Y was the show "Free-Wheeling" for the benefit of the unemployed.

Almost 1700 people attended and since the assembly holds only 1450 this alone would be proof of the success of the show. Dix Crosby, Johnny Leiss, Hugh Healy, and Jack Ellis were the main factors behind the show.

The Hi-Y is looking forward to another year as successful as the past one.

The Girl Reserves

OFFICERS

President	MARIAN STEBBINS
Vice President	RUTH STANSFIELD
Treasurer	DONNA PINKHAM
Secretary	FLORA KARAS

THIS year the Girl Reserves were greatly handicapped by the loss of their popular adviser, Miss Watts, who resigned because of lack of time to devote to the organization.

However, the club succeeded in collecting itself when Miss Jenkins agreed to fill the vacant position.

At a recent joint meeting in the Y. W. C. A. of the officers of the Girl Reserve Clubs in this vicinity, many ideas and ambitions were brought back for the development of Girl Reserves in B. H. S. Hereafter a drive will be made for new members and also bigger and better activities will be carried on. So we're warning you just watch the Girl Reserves rise!

Chemistry Club

OFFICERS

Adviser	OTTO J. WALRATH
President	MARIAN STEBBINS
Vice President	EDGAR HEALY
Secretary and Treasurer	JOHN MOGLIA

THE Chemistry Club has been very active this year. The first meeting was devoted to the election of officers.

A trip was made in December to the Bloomfield Telephone Company. Explanations of the various operations were given by employees of the company. From this trip we learned how telephone conversations are carried on.

In March, Dr. Schmidt of the Bakelite Company gave an interesting talk on bakelite. From this lecture we learned of the great number of uses to which this product may be put.

Dr. Reed, Dean of Chemistry at Rutgers University, gave a very interesting talk on water.

The Chemistry Club also put on in assembly a very interesting experiment with liquid air.

Math Club

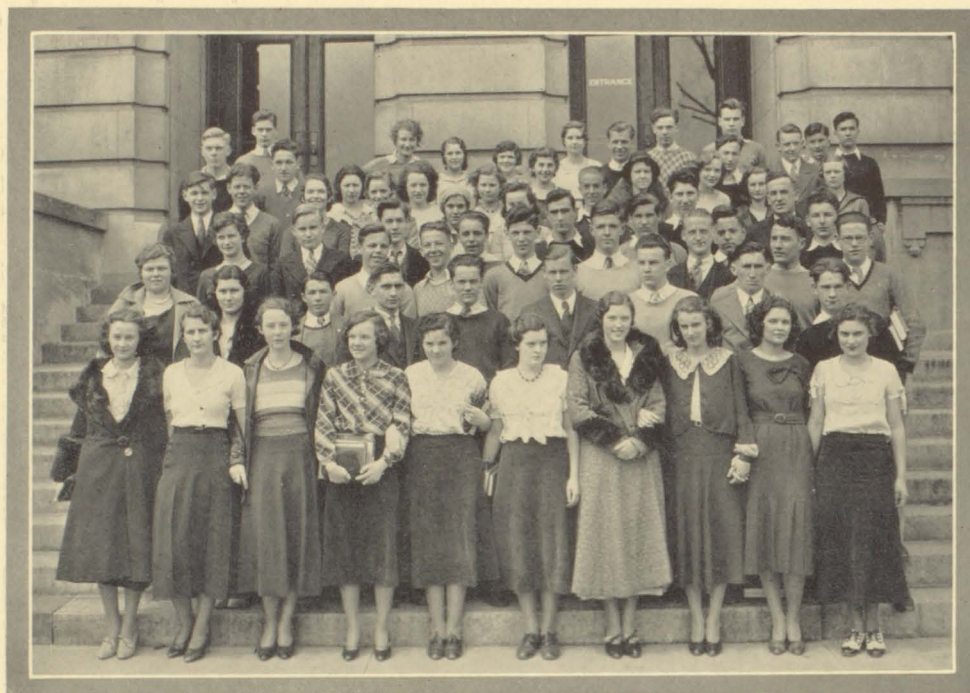

OFFICERS

President	ROBERT PERRINE
Vice President	CARL FAELTEN
Treasurer	RUTH STANSFIELD
Secretary	HELEN GREENWOOD

THE Math Club was formed about seven years ago. It was organized to stimulate an interest in Mathematics which cannot be achieved in the class room.

During this year, the members have taken several educational trips. Among the places visited are Stevens Institute of Technology and New York University. An annual outing is held at Mr. Haupin's country home.

In December, the Mathematics Club of South Side High School, in an endeavor to exchange ideas and to broaden their field of interest, invited our club to a joint meeting. We later entertained them and we are sure that this friendship will help us achieve our purpose.

Sphinx Society

OFFICERS

President	JOSEPH CARSON
Vice President	MILDRED ELLOR
Secretary	ELEANOR MCCLLOUD
Treasurer	JOHN MOGLIA

DURING the first half of the year Mr. Willets served as adviser to the club. A trip was taken to Vernon Hall, a private Museum owned by Diane Freiday of Columbia High School.

Mr. Ross acted as adviser to the Sphinx Society the second half of the term. Plans were made for trips to West Point, Morristown, Florham Park, and Philadelphia.

The research Medal will be awarded to the person or persons who write the best essay or plan on the life of Washington. This subject was chosen in connection with the Bicentennial celebration of the birth of George Washington.

Spanish Club

OFFICERS

Honorary President	MISS MARTZ
President	LILLIAN ZBIKOWSKI
Vice President	MARGARET MCGLYNN
Secretary	EVA KOEHNLEIN
Treasurer	IRENE SAMUELS

THE main objective of the Spanish Club is to promote an interest in the Spanish language, the Spanish people and their customs, and in things that are especially connected with Spain.

The regular features of the Club are the two outings—one in the spring and one in the fall—and the Christmas Party held at the Community House. The other meetings are program meetings.

At each commencement, the Club presents a gold ring to the pupil attaining the highest average in the two-year Spanish Course.

Song of Life

Softly, softly, at dusk, hopes from a lonely fading past
Lay a tinkling flowing melody of gentle remorse
Across the many-stranded throbbing memory chords
Of the mystic, clouded facts and fancies in a troubled soul.

But still, again, when night is past;
And a rosy dawn points the way with bounding spirit
To a hearty life of love and work and hope and laughter;
Then the tinkling memory-melody
Becomes the dashing, glorious song of life.

ALBERT GORSLINE.

Football

ON September 26 B. H. S. opened its football season by taking a warm-up game from Seton Hall, 32 to 0. The varsity played half of the game and showed great promise.

On the following week a fighting Belleville team held B. H. S. to a 6 to 0 victory. This triumph proved costly, for in that game Richard McNeely, star center, was severely injured and kept out for the rest of the season.

South Side was the next victim, and in a close and thrilling game went down in defeat to the tune of 18 to 12.

Central Paterson proved easy and B. H. S., scoring almost at will, rolled up a 32 to 0 score.

On October 24 Dickinson halted what seemed a championship team in a heart-breaking game. The final score was 13 to 7 in favor of Dickinson.

The week following B. H. S. staged a comeback and playing with lots of dash and spirit trounced East Side 20 to 0.

An overconfident Bloomfield eleven was beaten by a determined Irvington team for its second defeat. The final score was 19 to 0.

The next week Nutley was beaten in a fine game, 24-0.

Bloomfield meeting Montclair in the annual Thanksgiving encounter triumphed, as was expected, 33-7.

A post-season game was scheduled with Kearny for the benefit of the unemployed of both towns. In one of the most thrilling games ever played on the Athletic field, Bloomfield edged Kearny out 19-13. Those playing their last games for B. H. S. were Captain Thomas Adams, Russell Fisher, John Reid, Newell Rand, Hurley Jaeger, Joseph Moore, LeRoy Dyal, Robert Pieper, Arthur Everswick, Edward Wheelan.

Thus B. H. S. closed a successful season with eight victories against two defeats. They scored 188 points and held their opponents to 64. All the games were played with the sportsmanship characteristic of Bloomfield and a majority of them were close games which furnished the fans a real treat.

Dickinson, after beating the Red and Gray, went on to a State championship.

Basketball

THE B. H. S. quintet, coached by William L. Foley, and led by Jerry McGovern, proved to be one of the greatest fighting teams the Red and Gray has ever produced. Although having been defeated by a few teams, these boys, by clever and fast playing, defeated some of the strongest teams in the state. The season terminated with 8 victories and 7 defeats.

Baseball

THE team this season should run through their schedule without great difficulty as many of the team are veterans.

Most of the posts are held down by men who have little competition; this holds true with the exception of first base. The team has felt the need of a good first baseman and the coach is having trouble choosing between Newell Rand, Frank Sadowski, and Harry Milbank. All three are good players and the work of choosing the best is hard.

Many of the regulars are playing their last season for B. H. S. These are Tommy Adams, Johnny Reid, "Happy" Miano, Danny Lynch, and Newell Rand. Ed Horton has the choice of playing two more years of Football or another season of Baseball. Whatever his choice is, it will be a gain to the school.

At the time this write-up goes to press, the team has an average of 500; splitting the eight games played.

Track

THE B. H. S. Track Team, whose season officially opened on April 27 with the Interclass meet, expects an excellent season with such stars and letter men as Fischer, Wheelan, Vassar, Garriga, Mahoney, Jones, and John Cleary. The Interclass meet was carried by the Seniors who were closely followed by the Juniors. The Sophomores and Freshmen placed third and fourth respectively.

My Treasure

Let them have their fortunes,
Money, jewels and power;
Reveling in luxury
Through each passing hour.

Let them keep their frills and lace;
To themselves their gold;
What care I for things of earth,
Crumbling dust and mould?

What I crave they cannot buy!
My life has no end.
Reigns supreme my in-born joy,
If I have a friend.

STANLEY KOHLER.

"Snooty Seniors"

A wrinkled brow, a learned face,
A pair of specs, an austere pace,
An air so calm, a smile so proud,
Can e'er be found in any crowd
As he's the Snooty Senior.

His pencil chewed, his books are worn,
For many hardships have they borne.
His inkstained hands, his careless dress,
So need to give you just one guess,
That he's the Snooty Senior.

He's nonchalant where'er he goes,
The tricks of every game he knows.
No matter what the time or place,
He's sure to act with usual grace,
As every Snooty Senior.

He's never filled with qualms or woe
By teachers' marks and so and so.
And never fails to voice his say
On methods, rules, and such that may Disturb the Snooty Senior.

His fun, his tricks, his every joy,
No one has power to destroy.
His peace, his glories, and his best,
He holds aloof from all the rest,
Save from the Snooty Seniors.

FLORA KARAS.
